Fires Today Sweep Forests Of Four Western States

OVER 70,000 ACRES HAVE BEEN BURNED

Closure Orders Issued for Four National Forests By Government Agents

RESCUE TWO PARTIES

Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, South Dakota Report Many Homes Threatened

(By United Press)

FIRE SWEEPED the forests of the four western states today, where more than 70,000 acres of timber and grass range have been burned.

The most serious fires were reported from Montana, Wyoming and Idaho, with smaller fires in South Dakota.

One of the most serious fires, 16 miles from Anaconda, Mont., already destroyed some farm buildings, and today threatened sectors of the summer-home colony on Silver lake.

Mount Haggin dude ranch employees rescued two parties of vacationists from the fire zone Wednesday after the alarm spread.

From the south, across the Idaho state line, a fire in the Salmon forest was working its

BOOTLEGGERS HIT BY WATER SHORTAGE

RENO, July 23.—(UP)—Nevada, the land of those who would be free in matters of marriage and prohibition, has a liquor problem which has nothing to do with federal agents.

The trouble, believe it or not, is water.

This ironical sidelight on bootlegging activities was disclosed here today when George W. Brady, deputy prohibition commissioner, returned chagrined at the heat and frustration of two carefully planned raids.

The raids were on distilleries at Stone House and at a plant hidden in the sagebrush near Golconda. At both places Brady and his raiders found big stills, completely equipped, but abandoned.

Inquiries disclosed the moonshiners had given up operations or lack of water. Numerous other stills were reported closing down for the same reason.

FLYING PARSON IN CRASH OF AIRPLANE

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 23.—(UP)—The Rev. Brother George U. Feltes, flying a missionary plane from New York to Alaska, crashed on landing at the Buffalo airport here today.

The crash occurred at 2:57 p. m. eastern standard time. Rev. Feltes was believed unharmed.

The landing gear of the large plane was smashed. Attendants at the field ran to the far side of the field, where the plane crashed.

Register Will Begin Serial Next Saturday

"Manhattan Night." A gripping crime story of New York night life. Surprising! Baffling! That is the treat in store for readers of the Santa Ana Register.

This new mystery serial by William Almon Wolff, who wrote the novel, "The Trial of Mary Dugan," will start in the Saturday, July 25 issue of the Register, and will appear daily thereafter.

Don't miss this masterpiece of mystery.

Watch for the first installment in the Register, Saturday July 25.

MANIAC KILLS FOUR: WOUNDS FOUR OTHERS

Uses Gun Until Ammunition Gives Out, Then He Stabs With Knife

MERCER, Pa., July 23.—(UP)—Four people were killed and four others injured near here today by Marko Demofonti, who shot the four who died and stabbed the others.

The dead:

Mrs. Marko Demofonti, wife of the man.

Mrs. Alfonso Fogetti, Demofonti's sister-in-law.

Gaston Delaqua, a shoemaker.

Mrs. Frank Yakeko.

The injured: Mrs. Mike Benan, Flora Benan, Mrs. Pete Cicilian and Tony Cicilian, her 10-year-old son.

Demofonti had been adjudged insane by a medical commission here yesterday and was returned to his home awaiting removal today. Waiting until the men had left for work at No. 2 mine of the Sharon Coal and Limestone company today, he seized a shotgun and shot his wife and sister-in-law—and then dashed wildly out of the house brandishing the gun.

Delaqua, the shoemaker, was the first met and the demented killer leveled the gun at him. In quick succession he killed Delaqua and Mrs. Yakeko, who was walking along the street.

The ammunition exhausted, Demofonti seized a knife and dashed to the Benan home where he stabbed Mrs. Benan and her daughter. He ran shouting to the next house, where Mrs. Cicilian and her son lived, adding them to his victims before he was captured.

The condition of the injured was serious, but they are expected to recover.

POLICE SQUADS ON SEARCH FOR FIEND

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 23.—(UP)—Acting on a tip said to have emanated from the Denver police department, police squads early today rushed to Manitou, Colo., adjoining here, in search of a suspect in the playing of Louis J. Palmer.

The tip asserted the Manitou youth answered the description of the slayer given by Glenda King, 15-year-old Colorado Springs school girl with Palmer at the time of the slaying, and who was criminally assaulted by the fiend.

It was reported the youth, whose name was not made public, had previously boasted plans to commit just such a crime as the one which occurred here late Monday night.

Mrs. Moody Wins From Miss Weisel

MANCHESTER-BY-SEA, Mass., July 23.—(UP)—Helen Willis Moody won her semi-final match in the Essex County club women's championships here today defeating Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento by the scores of 6-2, 6-3. The finals will be played Saturday when Mrs. Moody meets the winner of the Mrs. Harper-Margery Morrill match.

Acting Head Of China Is Fired Upon

Attempt Made to Assassinate Finance Minister as He Leaves Train

SHANGHAI, China, July 23.—(UP)—A futile daring attempt was made to assassinate T. V. Soong, finance minister and acting president of China, on his arrival by train from Nanking today. Soong was unhurt.

Uyloo Tong, an adviser in the finance ministry, was fatally wounded and several persons were injured, including one of Soong's bodyguards.

The attack occurred at North station, terminal of the Shanghai-Nanking railroad just outside the international settlement or foreign area of Shanghai. The assassins threw a bomb and opened up with rifle and pistol fire as Soong and his party stepped off the train.

Minister Soong threw himself to the ground, pretending he was hit. The assassins fled when police and Soong's bodyguard returned their fire.

The minister scrambled to his feet and hurried to a waiting motor car. He drove to his residence in the French concession, also a part of the foreign area of Shanghai.

Uyloo Tong, fatally wounded, suffered wounds in the shoulder and abdomen. Three bystanders were among the injured.

In an interview later with the United Press, Soong blamed the attack on Cantonese enemies of the national government. He declared that four assassins on both sides of him fired dozens of shots besides hurling the bombs.

Soong drew his own revolver, he said, and then threw away his metal gun helmet to make himself inconspicuous. Two of his bodyguards and several passengers on the train were wounded. Guards finally cleared the station.

Soong, who is 37 years old, is acting president of the national government in the absence of General Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the Nanking regime. General Chiang is in Kiangsi province, south-central China fighting bandit-communist forces concentrated there.

Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese charge d'affaires, arrived on the same train as Soong. He was outside the North station, entering his automobile when the outbreak occurred.

REPORT DISORDERS IN BULGARIA TODAY

SOFIA, Bulgaria, July 23.—(UP)—Disorders broke out in several Bulgarian cities today during communist rehearsals for nation-wide demonstrations planned for August 1 to urge a general strike.

At Yamboul one workman was killed and another injured when striking silk and tobacco workers clashed with police. Militia was summoned to disperse the rioters. At Varna, 1300 textile workers struck and several were injured in fighting with police. Hundreds were arrested at Sofia when police broke up meetings.

Nicholas Mouschanoff, minister of the interior, threatened drastic measures to suppress the disorders, including internment of communist deputies.

HAND PAINTED PLEA SENT TO GOVERNOR

SACRAMENTO, July 23.—(UP)—A hand-painted application for release from Folsom prison reached the office of Gov. Rolph today.

Fred P. Martin, Los Angeles "lifer," sent the Governor a huge and elegantly printed card expressing his "best wishes."

The card, 4 by 10 inches in size, was embellished with a hand-painted rose and embossed with gold trimmings.

Incidentally, Martin mentioned he would like to get out of prison, and asked the governor to do something for him.

"WHAT-A-MAN" DISAPPEARS AS DEPUTIES LOOK FOR HIM

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—(UP)—Sought on a warrant accusing him of bigamy G. Edward "What-a-Man" Hudson was strangely missing today from his usual haunts, although he had promised sheriff's officers he would surrender to answer to a charge preferred against him in Kelo, Wash.

The bigamy charge was the latest of several sensational results of Hudson being married to Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy in Kelo June 23, allegedly without first divorcing Mrs. Margaret Newton-Hudson.

When the minister who married Mrs. Newton-Hudson and the former salesman had positively identified the couple, Prosecutor Cecil Hallin of Cowlitz county, Washington, issued the complaint, and a telegraphic warrant was sent to the Los Angeles sheriff's office. Bail was placed at $1000.

"I believe I have an airtight defense," Hudson declared through his attorney, Richard Cantillon. "I will surrender as soon as the warrant is received here."

But Capt. J. B. Fox of the sheriff's fugitive detail was not waiting for the official papers. On the strength of the telegraphic warrant, he ordered the self-styled "Revend" to be taken into custody and held pending the warrant's receipt today.

The sheriff's officers had no more luck locating Hudson than have numerous subpoena servers who sought him for the last week in connection with his many legal troubles.

LINDBERGH TO START FLIGHT IN NEXT WEEK

Famous Flier Says They'll Be Ready to Hop Any Day After Sunday

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., July 23.—(UP)—Colonel and Mrs. Chas. A. Lindbergh will start on their summer vacation aerial tour to the orient over a route beset with fog and storms via Point Barrow and Nome, Alaska, some day next week, he told the United Press today.

"The day, I wouldn't say right now, but we'll be ready any day after Sunday. One or two instruments must be put in the ship and it will be ready."

The Lindberghs will fly first to Washington to complete arrangements for papers they will need for themselves and their plane, then they will return to New York for a possible overnight stop before continuing their journey.

WOMAN BANDIT OF CHINA IS CAPTURED

PEIPING, China, July 23.—(UP)—China's famed woman bandit, "The Widow Chang," has been captured by troops of the national government.

She was caught in Honan province, historically the cradle of Chinese culture but of recent years a bandit-ridden, poverty-stricken area.

Like most of the bandit chiefs, the Widow Chang came from the peasantry. Leader of what grew to be a large and powerful band, she never hesitated to battle government forces whenever occasion required.

Devices Are Being Taken Away Today

Restriction Against Officers to Arrest Violators is Lifted

CONFRONTED with the law of the state, backed by decisions of the supreme court of California showing that the court did not have power to enjoin peace officers from enforcing a valid law, the opposition of slot machine agents and operators to efforts to clean out the machines in Santa Ana and Orange county, collapsed in court yesterday when temporary restraining orders against police authorities were dissolved.

H. T. Foust withdrew his petitions for restraining orders just as the hearing on a motion to dissolve the temporary restraining orders was scheduled to get under way.

As a consequence officers were released from the restriction against arresting operators of the devices which have been declared to be illegal and confiscating the slot machines. Investigation today shows that there are very few machines left in operation here, the others having been removed to prevent confiscation. Those that are left are operating strictly as vending machines. It is said, and carry signs stating that they will pay no chips.

With the dismissal of the temporary restraining orders on petition of Foust the operators have placed themselves in a position that will require either the removal of the machines from places

SALT LAKE RESORT DESTROYED BY FIRE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 23.—(UP)—A fortunate north wind had today saved Sallair, pleasure resort on Great Salt lake, from complete destruction but failed to prevent a $105,000 loss.

The fire completely destroyed the south end of the amusement park and only the northern breeze prevented it from wiping out the entire resort.

Origin was unknown. Of a sudden, late yesterday, the flames were seen in the south end. They quickly spread. Frantic efforts of volunteer firemen were of no avail. The Salt Lake fire department was called.

Finally the blaze worked around to the long elevated scenic railway which kindled like shavings.

TOKIO FLIERS FAIL TO HOP OFF TODAY

SEATTLE, July 23.—(UP)—Adverse weather conditions over Alaska caused Reginald Robbins and Harold Jones to postpone their second attempt to fly from Seattle to Japan today.

The monoplane Fort Worth with its new 325 horsepower motor and enlarged fuel capacity, was thoroughly tested by Robbins yesterday and pronounced in good shape for the flight.

The fliers said they would start "just as soon as the weather man says it's all right," and that they expect to get away tomorrow or Saturday.

OPPONENTS OF RATE BOOST TO TESTIFY

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(UP)—Arguments of shippers, agricultural interests and others opposing the proposed 15 per cent railroad freight increase will be heard by the interstate commerce commission beginning Aug. 10 and extending throughout the month, it was announced today.

Sectional hearings will be held at San Francisco, at Portland, Ore., Kansas City, Mo., Dallas, Texas; Salt Lake City, Atlanta, Chicago and some points in New England.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 23. [To the Editor of The Register:—] This new scheme of Mr. Hoover's for Germany "that all short time credits shall be extended and converted into long-time credits," why that ain't new. That's our old stand-by gag of "renewing your notes." Why, half of our traffic is folks going to or coming from renewing our notes. I shod hope Mr. Hoover gets 'em straightened out. He has made every conscientious effort to help 'em, but helping one country in Europe is like helping one bee in a hive. You may help him (or her as the sex may be) but you will know you have been to a helping.

SEEK REVOLVER THAT FIRED ON CHURCH PARTY

DETROIT, July 23.—(UP)—The service revolver of two customs border patrol inspectors were to be examined today to determine whether they or the crew of an armored rum boat fired the shot that wounded an excursion steamer passenger in a gun battle on the Detroit river.

A steel jacketed .45 caliber bullet was taken from the arm of the victim, Arthur Garjeski, 33, who was a member of a church party on the excursion ship Ste. Clair. The two customs guardsmen, Walter Wesolowski and Lawrence Fish, admit firing more than 30 shots at the rum runner in a wild chase in circles about the steamer, which was carrying 1000 excursionists.

The officers, maintain, however, that their guns fired ordinary soft lead bullets, without steel jackets, and that, therefore, the youth must have been struck by the rum runner's fire.

The officers, under questioning by Assistant Prosecutor George E. Fitzgerald, insisted the rum runner returned their fire, a gunner shooting from behind a steel shield. Witnesses aboard the Ste. Clair, however, including Captain Frederick Simpson, said they saw no shooting from the rum runner, which took refuge under the big steamer's rail, and escaped to Canadian shores.

Walter S. Petty, assistant collector of customs, in his report of the shooting to Washington, said he did not know whether a bullet from the inspectors' guns or from the rum craft Garjeski. Petty intimated, however, that one of the officers' shells might have glanced from the steel armor of the rum boat.

Several investigations were underway today. Although county officials believed action to be the province of federal authorities, the prosecutor's office continued its inquiry into the shooting to determine if state laws had been violated by the guardsmen.

DISCOUNT RATE OF ENGLAND INCREASED

LONDON, July 23.—(UP)—The discount rate of the Bank of England was increased one per cent today, to 3 1/2 per cent.

The bank rate increase had been anticipated. It was designed to halt the gold withdrawals which had increased rapidly in the last few days, and also to check short term borrowing in London, which had forced the commercial discount rates up almost equal to the 2 1/2 per cent bank rate.

Seven Powers Reach Accord on Temporary Relief for German Salvation

U. S. IS SATISFIED

Secretary Stimson Soon to Go to Berlin to View Situation at First Hand

LONDON, July 23.—(UP)—The historic seven power statesmen's conference ended today with complete accord on temporary emergency measures designed to save Germany from financial ruin. The statesmen rose at 12:20 p. m. terminating the deliberations begun last Monday.

The United Press was informed on reliable, though unofficial, authority that the plenary session which met from 10 a. m. until noon

RELIEF MEASURES

The relief measures, adopted at the closing session of the seven-power conference called to consider Germany's plight, were accompanied by the implied promise that more permanent steps would be taken later.

The measures taken included renewal of the $100,000,000 short term loan, already past due, which was made to Germany in June by Great Britain, France, the United States and the world bank.

The powers represented also agreed to have their central banks use every effort to prevent further withdrawal of foreign money from Germany. It was recommended that the world bank organize a committee to investigate Germany's need for immediate further credit, and the possibility of converting short-term loans into long term.

The emergency plan was essentially as drawn up by the United States and accepted by the other powers represented—Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Japan and Germany.

approved the report of the finance ministers, suggesting ways and means temporarily to solve the German economic crisis.

Confirmation of the unofficial report that the plenary had approved the finance ministers' report was given the United Press by Tsuneo Matsudaira, Japanese ambassador to Great Britain and delegate to the conference.

The delegates from the seven nations—the United States, Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium and Japan—appeared optimistic. They expressed the opinion that "real progress" had been made toward solving the German financial debacle and in beginning a new era of international co-operation unprecedented in history.

GRAIL WILL SEEK SENATORIAL TOGA

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—(UP)—Confirmation was obtained here today of rumors current through the state that Congressman Joe Crail will seek the Republican nomination for United States senator against Senator Samuel Shortridge.

Formal announcement of Congressman Crail's candidacy was expected tomorrow, it was said by his representatives.

Bobbs-Merrill President Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 23.—(UP)—John J. Curtis, 74, president of the Bobbs-Merrill Publishing company, died in a hospital here last night of pneumonia. Curtis' home was in Hollywood, Calif., where he managed the motion picture interests of the publishing company. He arrived here June 3 for a semi-annual visit to the main office.

He had been connected with the Bobbs-Merrill company for nearly 60 years and was credited with making the first campaign to sell action on a nationwide scale.

MRS. KENNEDY IS FREED OF HER HUSBAND

into their respective handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Kennedy visited Mrs. Newton-Hudson last night when both women had recovered their composure, they posed together for photographs.

"I'm just here socially," Mrs. Newton-Hudson told reporters when she was smiling once more. Under pressure, however, she admitted she had been served with a subpoena.

The only persons missing from the scene were "What-a-Man" himself and Mrs. Ethel Lee Parker Harbert, who has a $250,000 breach of promise suit pending against Hudson. She claims he took her on a pre-marriage honeymoon through several western states and promised to marry her. "What-a-Man" was reported in a nervous condition, awaiting the arrival of a warrant from County Court, Washington, where he is charged with bigamy. It was under a romantic moon in Longview, Wash., about three weeks ago that "Mr. Kennedy" became Mrs. G. Edward Hudson in a midnight ceremony on the shores of a lake. The warrant was expected to arrive in Los Angeles late today by airmail.

Mrs. Kennedy's suit for annulment had to wait its call, as Judge Sproul listened to three divorce suits which took precedence on the court calendar.

Mrs. Kennedy was seated at the counsel table when Judge Sproul handed her romantic, but stormy, marriage to Hudson.

Several friends of Mrs. Kennedy went to her aid when she suddenly fell forward with her head on the table. She sobbed and buried her face in her hands.

Mrs. Kennedy recovered quickly and was assisted from the court room by Mrs. Essie B. Lacy, formerly a preacher at Mrs. McPherson's Angelus temple.

The entire annulment proceedings took only five minutes. Only two witnesses were called, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Margaret Newton-Hudson, who was married to Mrs. Kennedy's "What-a-Man" in Las Vegas, Nev., after a whirlwind courtship of eight weeks.

Mrs. Kennedy walked slowly to the witness stand when Judge Sproul called for her testimony. She spoke in such low tones in answer to questions that only a few persons in the front of the room could hear what she said.

"Mrs. Kennedy testified that Hudson told her he 'believed his former wife had obtained a divorce.'"

"When their honeymoon was interrupted near San Diego as newspaper extras announced the discovery of another Mrs. Hudson, her husband was 'astounded,' Mrs. Kennedy said.

"Let us go to Los Angeles right away," she quoted him as saying.

Mrs. Kennedy declared she and Hudson were married last June 28 at Longview, Wash. She identified a newspaper photograph of Hudson as the man she married.

Mrs. Newton-Hudson said she

These 'Showers' Are Keeping Us Guessing

Recent arrivals from the middle west and east were all prepared for a nice summer shower when a few drops of water came down this morning. But they were doomed to disappointment, for the drops were few and far between and dried up as soon as they hit the ground. Cooling breezes from the Pacific kept the temperature down today. The "shower" came under the classification of "unusual." A similar sprinkle occurred yesterday morning.

was married to Hudson November 22, 1929. She had received no divorce or annulment and still considered him her husband, she said. Mrs. Newton-Hudson also identified newspaper photographs of Hudson.

America throughout the crisis maintained her leadership recently established in world political and economic affairs. The finance ministers' plan was in the main the "second Hoover plan," although delegates preferred to call it the Anglo-American proposals.

Stimson Reports To Headquarters

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(UP)—Secretary of State Stimson reported to the state department today that the London conference had agreed on relief measures for Germany. He said he would go to Berlin tomorrow for a close-up view of the situation.

The secretary's report said he was delighted with the conference outcome. Stimson's visit to Germany was planned before he left the United States.

Ray Atherton, counselor of embassy at London, read acting Secretary of State Castle the text of the London agreement. Castle said he regarded the adopted program as full achievement of the goal of German relief set by the conference.

It is anticipated here that the international committee set up to study Germany's short term credit needs will organize within a few days. Castle said that inasmuch as it was a banker's rather than a governmental committee, the United States would not be represented officially. It is presumed that American bankers will be represented on this body.

Officials expressed confidence that the London program would result in stabilization of German finance and in increased confidence in the economic strength of the Reich. With these expected developments it is believed Germany will have no trouble in obtaining further needed credits.

Regarding the political aspect of the conference, Castle said that Stimson was delighted by what he termed the constant cordiality between the French and Germans at London.

The New York Yankees played 33 exhibition games during their spring training season before launching into the 154-game schedule of the American league. Sixteen of the exhibitions were with National league teams.

where they have formerly operated, operation of the machines purely as mint vending devices or will leave the operators open to prosecution.

Mint Venders
A check of various places where slot machines were located revealed that the agents had made every effort to remove responsibility for any violation of the law from their own shoulders and shift it onto the merchant who permitted the machines in his establishment. In some places the machines bore cards with the following legend: "This is a mint vending machine and pays no chips," another reads "When the mints are out of this machine it is out of order." In other places cards read "Chips received are not redeemable but are for your pleasure and amusement." In the event an employee of an establishment operating machines where the chips "are not redeemable but are for your pleasure and amusement," through carelessness or for any other reason, redeems them, his employer is responsible and liable to prosecution, it is learned.

Asked for a statement following the petition to discontinue the restraining orders, McFadden was non-committal, saying, "I was employed to do a certain thing by my client. I have done that thing, received my pay and am through, unless Mr. Foust employs me for some other purpose." Later he said that he received orders several days ago from Foust to prepare the petition for removal of the restraining orders. This was done, according to McFadden, because "Foust did not want to place the judges who issued the orders in an unfavorable position with the people and he understood that they had been subject to considerable criticism because of their action."

McFadden is also credited with having made the statement that "we only asked for an injunction in order that my client would have time to remove his machines."

Machines Removed
An investigation conducted this morning in 15 business houses where slot machines have been operating recently revealed the fact that but one out of the total number was in operation—and this one did not pay out chips.

Trucks were busy yesterday afternoon picking up machines from various locations, as part of the general exodus from the city for those who were opposing continued violation of the law.

A careful check of slot machines made by Chief of Police F. W. Howard today revealed that there were no machines being operated here illegally, he said.

"With the signs on the Foust machines, these devices are merely salesmen for mints, and as far as I can see are not being operated illegally now," Howard said.

Other machines than Foust's are not being operated at all, Howard declared. He said he intended to keep a close watch on all machines, day by day, however, and has instructed the officers on each police beat that they will be held responsible for the machines on their beats.

Ends Proceedings
City Attorney Clyde Downing, Special Counsel L. W. Blodgett, Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner were in court at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, ready to prove that the injunction should not continue in force, but the action of Foust in withdrawing his petition automatically dissolved the orders and ended the proceedings.

The time for hearing arguments on the restraining order had previously been set for 2 p. m. Friday, but was advanced until yesterday afternoon on a notice of motion for dismissal which was based on the grounds that a court of equity has no right to restrain a peace officer from enforcing a law, the validity of which has never been questioned.

China will be made in a Lockheed Sirius equipped with pontoons in which the two have made several short trial flights.

The schedule as far as completed, and subject to changes the Lindberghs may make enroute, will call for stops at Ottawa, Ont., Moose Factory, Baker's Lake via Churchill, Akavik where the Mackenzie river finds an outlet, Point Barrow and Nome.

From Nome their route includes Karaginak and Petropavlovsk via Bering Sea down the Kamchatka Peninsula coast, thence to Memuro on the North Japan coast and from there to Tokyo.

"We have no set plans yet for China, and we have no schedule for arrival in Japan, nor are we certain when we'll start back," Lindbergh said.

The plane is equipped with two radio sets, transmitters and receivers for both Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh; several cameras, and complete camping accessories. It will be loaded with emergency rations, including water enough to last them two months.

CLAIMS HUSBAND THREATENED LIFE

Accusing her husband of cruel and inhuman treatment that has caused her extreme mental suffering, Latha N. Horton, has filed a divorce complaint against her husband, Hayden E. Horton. According to her complaint the cruel and inhuman treatment has continued since 1919 when the family lived in Nebraska. Mrs. Horton alleges that during that year her husband threatened her life.

In 1925, according to the complaint, her husband came to the telephone office in Fullerton where she was employed and threatened to strike her. She alleges that time she was intoxicated at the time the husband alleged that her husband refused to work and is said to have told children of the couple and their neighbors that there was no need for him to work as long as his wife would support him.

Mrs. Horton is seeking custody of the two minor children, a reasonable sum for the support of herself and children, costs of the divorce action and an injunction to prevent the molestation of herself or children pending hearing of the action.

PLAN SPECIAL SCHOOLS FOR DEAF CHILDREN

Definite plans for the establishment of a special school for deaf children in Orange county will be made at a meeting of representatives of the Orange County Parent-Teacher association, it was revealed today by Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, who is initiating the movement, which will be carried on by the association.

The meeting will be held in the county school superintendent's office in the court house annex tomorrow at 2 p. m. Plans for enrolling special teachers who have made a study of methods of instructing deaf children will be made at the meeting.

Adkinson declared today that the general public would be surprised at the large number of deaf children who are living in the county, some of whom have never learned to talk because of the lack of proper instruction.

Any parents of deaf children in the county are invited to attend the meeting to take part in the discussion.

A similar school for crippled children in the county will be held this year, it was learned. A meeting for discussion of ways and means to carry out this project will be held some time next week, Adkinson announced.

Wife's Complaint Charges Cruelty

Charging her husband with inflicting bodily injury and causing her extreme mental suffering, Velma McLeod has filed a complaint seeking to divorce her husband, Keith McLeod. The complaint alleged that they were married November 2, 1927, and separated May 28, 1931. There is a child, Malcolm Lloyd McLeod, 13-month-old, whose custody is sought by the mother. In addition to custody of the minor child the plaintiff is seeking $35 monthly alimony and possession of an automobile which she alleges was paid for by herself and is now in her possession.

The complaint alleges that McLeod is shiftless and lazy and that because of his habitual use of intoxicants he cannot hold a position and that the plaintiff has been forced to support herself, the child and her husband. She alleged that for the past year her husband has been almost continually under the influence of intoxicants and that on several occasions has called her vile names and has struck her.

FRIIS HANDLES CASE

Deputy District Attorney Leo B. Friis represented the district attorney's office yesterday in the prosecution of S. A. Vanneman on a charge of issuing a fictitious check to Perry B. LaPiere, of Laguna Beach. Vanneman withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty.

way through Big Hole pass into Beaverhead national forest. Last night 300 men were sent to the area.

Several fires were reported from Yellowstone National park, but only one was serious. Already it has devastated 10,000 heavily timbered acres, and today moved forward unchecked across a four mile front.

Eastern Wyoming also was hard hit, with losses mounting to several hundred thousands dollars estimated by forestry officials.

Three small fires were reported today in the Flathead country of western Montana, and crews were sent to prevent their spreading to the Flathead forest reserves.

Humidity continues low while for the 12th consecutive day the mercury has exceeded 90 degrees, making the fire hazard more serious and contributing to the tinder-like condition in the forests.

Unless a decided change in climatic conditions occurs, the present situation will soon approximate that of the holocaust year 1929 when thousands of acres of western timber lands were razed.

So serious has the situation become that closure orders for the Beaverhead and Deer Lodge national forests were made today, while in western Montana the Bitter Root and Lolo forests already have been closed except to those possessing permits issued by the forest service.

FILL VACANCY

M. A. Gauer, superintendent of Anaheim schools, has been appointed to the county board of education to take the place of E. R. Berry, who resigned recently. It was announced today by Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, Gauer will represent the third district in the county.

SEEK MAN FOR KNIFE AFFRAY AT BUENA PARK

Sheriff's officers were today searching for Guy Overstreet, Buena Park man, following a cutting scrape at Buena Park late last night, in which Overstreet's brother-in-law, Roy Pressler, 20, was seriously cut across the back with a pocket knife.

The youth was taken to a doctor's office at Buena Park, where officers said it was learned that he had been cut twice. One cut was six inches long across the right side and the other four inches long, on the left side.

According to a report filed by Officers Dean and McKelvey, Overstreet, separated from his wife, came to the home where Mrs. Overstreet is now living with her parents and tried to force a reconciliation with her. Failing, he is reported to have threatened several members of the family and to have stated he would kill his wife, the officers reported.

At this point, Pressler came home and Overstreet attacked him. It was reported. The knife wounds, although serious, were closed and the youth's condition was today reported as satisfactory.

Local Briefs

The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county will hold their regular monthly meeting next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. in Travaglini's cafe in Laguna Beach. It was announced today by Harry May of Fullerton, secretary of the organization.

Court Notes

Waiving custody of a 3-year-old child, Matthew Kennedy has filed a suit for divorce, charging his wife, Evelyn Kennedy, with desertion. In the complaint Kennedy stated that the couple was married at Troy, N. Y., September 25, 1927, and separated on January 10, 1928.

Moving Men Pay Visit; Get 2 Trucks

Al Chastain, who has a transfer business on West Chapman avenue in Orange, is convinced that there is going to be another transfer firm in business. However, he is quite sure the moving men won't operate in Orange.

When Chastain arrived at his place of business this morning, he discovered that two machines were missing. One was a roadster that had been converted into a truck. The other was a full sized truck. The thieves had to take a battery and a tire off of still another machine and place them on the truck before they could take it away, Chastain reported.

Mrs. Kolbe Learn Of Father's Death

Word was received here today of the death at Weiser, Idaho, of Tom Morris, father of Mrs. E. Kolbe, 804 Garfield street. The deceased was 70 years old and survived by his widow Mrs. Mary Morris, one son, Leo, of Spokane, Washington, and four daughters, Mrs. Eddie Powell and Mrs. Herman Torone of Nyssa, Oregon; Mrs. Theodore Moore, Ontario, Oregon, and Mrs. Kolbe of this city.

The deceased was born in Dubuque, Iowa, and moved to Butte, Mont., while still a youth and followed the mining business for many years. During his mining career he was severely injured in a mine explosion. Later he moved to Weiser, Idaho, where for the past 15 years he was employed by the Great Northern railroad. Mrs. Kolbe is wife of Deputy County Clerk Ed Kolbe.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

There is freedom in compulsion when you determine to make the most of the opportunity you have to show to the world that your love for one another is the best of all others though the grief which you can not escape well-nigh weighs you down.

Drugging your aching heart with self-indulgence which ignores the burdens of others is of no avail; the pain comes back. Realize the importance of the living hand, the word of cheer, and the comfort which you can give to others. Such service is the world sorely needs, and you can give it now. You can almost see your dear one's happy smile of commendation because you do your duty well.

DEATHS—In Newport Beach, July 22, 1931, Henry Burns Jeffries, aged 64, at his home, 2832 West Coast. Deceased leaves his wife, Estella M. He was a native of Virginia and had lived in California for the past 17 years and at Newport Beach the last 15 years. Funeral services will be held at Grooms Funeral Home in Costa Mesa, Friday at 1:30 p. m. Interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

(Funeral Notice) JAMISON—Services for Mrs. Eva B. Jamison, who passed away July 22 at Carson City, Nevada, will be held Saturday, July 25, at 10 a. m. from the Winbiger Funeral Home, 209 North Main street. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

GETS FIVE DAYS ON CHARGE OF SPEEDING

Speeding 72 miles an hour on the Coast highway near Sunset Beach today sent Gene Ott, 20, of 25 North Janss street, Fullerton, to the county jail for the next five days.

Ott, who when arrested, requested that he be allowed to appear before Justice Kenneth Morrison when his case was heard, came to court today and without comment, pleaded guilty, took his jail sentence mildly, kissed his wife goodbye and walked behind the rods.

He was driving a Ford at the time of his arrest and Officer Oscar Kelly who made the arrest, reported that his speedometer registered 80 miles an hour before he was able to catch the fast moving Ford.

"He wouldn't have gotten me when I had known he was coming," Ott is said to have stated.

SLOT MACHINE CASES ARE TO BE PROSECUTED

Prosecution of W. J. Johnson and "Red" Bailey on charges of operating gambling devices in violation of section 330a of the penal code, the violation consisting of operating slot machines, will be started immediately, according to District Attorney Sam L. Collins.

Johnson and Bailey were arrested by Sheriff Logan D. Jackson and Under-Sheriff Riggle on July 15, just prior to service of a temporary injunction restraining the sheriff's office from interfering with continued operation of the slot machines in this county.

Because of the temporary injunction the two men were released on their own recognizance upon advice of District Attorney Collins, pending court action on whether or not the injunction should be made permanent. Dismissal late yesterday of the injunction and similar action in connection with the restraining order against Chief of Police F. W. Howard, upon petition of H. T. Foust, agent for the slot machine interests, opened the way to immediate prosecution.

Complaints against the two men will be filed with Justice of the Peace Kenneth L. Morrison either this afternoon or tomorrow morning, according to District Attorney Collins. This delay was made necessary through the absence from the city of Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, who prepared the complaints in the case and will conduct the prosecution in justice court, Collins stated. Turner is in Huntington Beach today prosecuting a case in justice court there.

TAKE GAMBLING MACHINES FROM FISHING BARGE

Two gambling machines on the Morrison and Dulaney fishing barge off Huntington Beach were removed last night, it was learned today.

According to C. D. Steward, chief of police of Huntington Beach, he had received a complaint regarding the machines, which played quarters and nickels, and sent a man out last night to investigate. The investigator's report was that the machines had been removed, Steward said this morning.

The slot machines were in use yesterday afternoon when a Register reporter visited the barge. Both machines were located in the lunch room of the barge. The nickel apparatus was well patronized but the quarter machine was not overburdened with business, it is understood.

Chief Steward said this morning he wasn't sure whether the fishing barge was in his jurisdiction or not. It is anchored three or more miles off shore. The Huntington Beach city limits extend three miles off shore.

The fishing barge has been anchored off the beach since spring and is well patronized with many women and children included as patrons, it is reported.

Slot machines have been taboo in Huntington Beach for some time, a city ordinance forbidding their operation. Huntington Beach was one of the first communities in the Southland to refuse to license the machines.

PLAN TO TRAIN CREWS IN FIRE FIGHTING WORK

Plans for holding a training school for volunteer crew leaders and members of the county volunteer fire fighting crews were made at a meeting of the Orange County Protective Association held last night in the farm advisor's office in the court house annex.

Joe Scherman, state forest ranger in charge of Orange county, and H. R. Valentine, federal ranger in charge of the Orange county portion of the Cleveland National forest, were authorized to make arrangements for holding the school and setting the date.

Valentine reported that the state would sponsor a $23,000 fire prevention program in Orange county this year which would consist of building additional motor ways and fire breaks in the Cleveland forest and the use of fire guards and lookouts in this region.

At the present time, Valentine declared, there are 60 miles of motor ways through the forest for use in transporting supplies and men in case a fire breaks out.

The budget of the state board of forestry has been increased this year through the Clark-McNary funds. The federal appropriation for the state this year is $14,000 over last year, Valentine reported.

Joe Scherman reported that he had been called out 23 times since the first of the year to put out fires in rural buildings and fields. The largest acreage that burned over was a 20 acre tract. The use of the two trucks stationed in the county aided materially in this work, he declared.

The trucks are located at Orange and Capistrano and when the large six wheeled truck arrives it will be stationed at Orange and the smaller one moved to Yorba Linda, he said.

Work on roadside burning in the county is progressing satisfactorily, Scherman declared, and most of the roadsides through territory in the county where fire hazards are high have been taken care of.

R. A. Ireland, assistant fire warden of San Dimas, was present and reported that the Los Angeles county forestry department had stationed a fire truck on the valley boulevard which would take care of the Brea canyon district.

M. H. Davis, assistant superintendent of the Cleveland forest spoke briefly concerning the value of the motor ways through the forest and declared that it was vitally necessary to reach a fire as soon as possible to suppress it before it got out of control. He urged members to give publicity to warnings in regard to motorists who throw lighted cigarettes and cigars from cars on highways. He asked the cooperation of the public in helping eliminate fire hazards, reporting fires, and suppressing fires whenever they were discovered.

Willard Smith, county supervisor, was present and spoke highly of the cooperation of the federal government in fire protective programs in Orange county.

Local Briefs

Nebraskans of the southland have been asked to rally for the mammoth annual picnic reunion all day Saturday, July 25, in Bixby park, Long Beach. A popular program of music and oratory will start at two o'clock and coffee and badges will be provided. The county registers and headquarters will be open all day.

In spite of the fact that Mrs. Fether has twice been sent to jail, she is still free, at present on bail of $500 pending decision on the appeal to the higher court. She first was sentenced by Justice Morrison and served one day and a night in jail. Then she was freed on a habeas corpus writ and, after the superior court had decided that the justice court had jurisdiction in the case, kept out of jail the second time on bail, after the case was appealed the second time.

Great Crowd Applauds News Report

Interrupted repeatedly by thunderous applause, Evangelist John Brown last night read a special bulletin from the Santa Ana Register to the great throng in the tabernacle concerning the collapse of the defense of the slot machine interests in face of a campaign against them. Enthusiastic approval was expressed throughout the building when the revivalist read the news that restraining orders had been dissolved.

Valuable Police Dog Is Poisoned

A valuable police dog, owned by Henry Miles of Santa Ana, was poisoned late last night, according to a report made to the sheriff's office today.

The dog was being kept at the home of S. B. Williams, who resides at Gilbert street and Chapman avenue, near Garden Grove, according to Deputy Sheriff Dean and McKelvey. Someone, according to McKelvey fed the dog a piece of poisoned meat.

SURE HUSBY WAS ALIVE PRESCOTT, Ariz.—Mrs. Dorothy F. Shelby refused to be convinced the other day when a letter arrived from the Federal Veterans' Bureau saying she was a widow and asking her to apply for the insurance. Ward Shelby, the husband, wasn't convinced, either. He was by his wife's side when the letter arrived.

BANDITS TAKE MONEY FROM GOLF COURSE

Two unmasked bandits, armed with revolvers, held up the Hewes Park miniature golf course office at 10:45 o'clock last night and after keeping two employees at bay while searching them, escaped with $3 in cash and a check for $34, according to a report made to the sheriff's office.

Rare presence of mind on the part of Mrs. E. F. Cole, of Santa Ana, employee of the golf course, saved the day's receipts from the bandits, who when they first entered, ordered Mrs. Cole to give them the money.

Mrs. Cole had just locked up the money in a small safe in the office. "There is no money here," Mrs. Hibler has it all," she told the bandits, knowing that she had safely turned the dial on the safe, locking it.

The bandits then turned to C. J. Hibler, another employee, who was near the office and held him up, taking the $3 and the check. They also robbed Mrs. Cole of five cents, all she had at the time.

Deputy Sheriffs Dean and McKelvey made an investigation of the robbery.

KITTENS LIKE RABBITS GROVE CITY, Pa.—Two small animals, resembling kittens in the head and body, but with hind legs and tails similar to a rabbit's, are owned by Boyd Baker, near here. The animals are tame. They hop about like rabbits. One is gray in color, the other striped.

MEASLES NOT PREVALENT IN ORANGE COUNTY

Measles, one of the most prevalent diseases in Orange county and in California for the past year, has declined sharply during the past three months in the county and conditions have returned to about normal, it was announced today by Dr. H. K. Sutherland, county health officer.

During the first six months of the current year a total of 1355 cases of measles came to the attention of the health department while last year during the same period there were but 1051 cases. During June of this year there were only 57 cases reported while in May there were 179 cases and in April 215 cases, showing that the disease is on the decline in this county.

Parents are urged to be more careful in their attitude toward the malady, lest it develop into something more serious. Six rules for the prevention of a serious case of measles were given by Dr. Sutherland this morning which are as follows:

- 1.—If the child develops a running nose, sneezing, red and watery eyes, put him to bed and call the doctor.
- 2.—Keep the patient warm and eliminate drafts and glare.
- 3.—Light diets only—milk, soups and cereal.
- 4.—Don't permit others to come in contact with the sick child. Thus establish your own quarantine against spread.
- 5.—Keep the patient in bed until the doctor permits him to get up, no matter how well he may appear to be.
- 6.—After recovery, consult the physician at intervals for possible discovery of after-effects.

OPENS OFFICE

Lynn Hart, below, has just been announced as Santa Ana representative of Banks, Huntley and company and has opened an office in the First National bank building here.

LYNN HART OPENS BOND OFFICE HERE

L. A. Hart, well known in Santa Ana financial circles, has become associated with the local office of Banks, Huntley and company, it was learned today.

For the past 10 years Hart has been a resident of Santa Ana. During much of this time, he was connected with the First National bank and has been intimately associated with Santa Ana business activity. He is treasurer of the Santa Ana Lions club and he has been a member of this organization for some time. He is also a member of the Masonic order.

Banks, Huntley and company operates seven offices throughout Southern California, and is reputed to be one of the strongest investment banking firms in this territory. The firm underwrites and distributes a diversified list of municipal, utility and corporation bonds and preferred stocks.

The Santa Ana office of Banks, Huntley and company is located at 216 First National bank building.

"Strangler" Lewis, 232, recognized as world's heavyweight champion by this state, defeated Dr. Stan Lurich, 215, in straight falls, while Steve Strelch, 176, tossed Walter O'Connor, 178, in a one-fall curtain raiser.

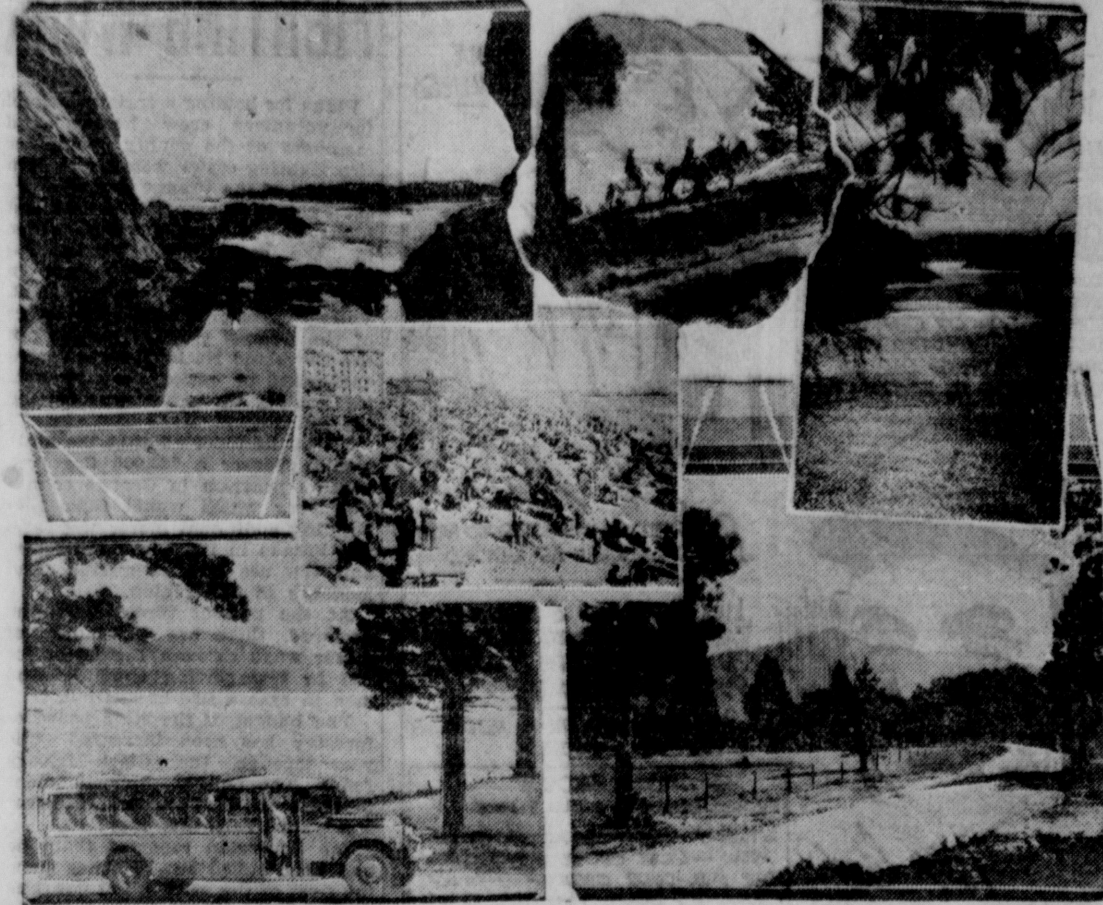

NEW OWNER FOR BEACH PROPERTY

Completing a real estate transaction at Balboa between Horace Fine and J. E. Pearce, Santa Ana broker, the latter has become owner of the Fine property at 211 East Bay avenue, Balboa, which adjoins the Pearce home. Fine had owned the property for a number of years, using the cottage at the rear for a summer home and the duplex on the front of the lot as income property.

In purchasing the site, Pearce has increased his holdings until he now owns 99 feet of Bay avenue frontage, one of the most desirable sites in the beach city.

SOME PICTURESQUE PLAYGROUNDS

Where else but Southern California can such a great diversity of alluring play places be found, and all within easy reach of everyone? A few scenes pictured above include a glimpse of famous coast at Laguna Beach; horseback party and moonlight on Lake Arrowhead; a usual summer day at any of the numerous beaches; a Motor Transit coach party along the shores of Big Bear Lake; and a turn in the road to Idyllwild in the San Jacinto mountains. These, and a great many more famous resorts, are quickly reached from this city.

EVANGELIST DECLARES WAGES OF SIN ON EARTH IS DEATH TO CONSCIENCE, CHARACTER, WILL

Fitting his talk to reach the heartstrings of the special delegation of young men who filled the first dozen rows in the tabernacle last night Evangelist John Brown based his message on the familiar text, "For the wages of sin is death but the gift of God is eternal life."

"The wages of sin here on earth is death to our conscience, death to our character, death to our will power, death to our body and death to our immortal soul," shouted the evangelist in warning the young men to keep out of sinning ways.

Issuing a statement designed to silence all talk proclaiming John Brown's revival campaign as a money-making scheme, the evangelist declared last night that he does not own a dollar of his schools, nor does his family receive a cent of money from the schools upon his death. "I am not stacking up a fortune for myself, as some people seem to imply," stated the speaker.

As usual the singing occupied no small part in the evening's services, as the entire congregation joined with the choir in singing the well known old hymns. Preceding the evening's message the Arkansas Travelers sang "Are You Plowing Your Furrow Straight?"

"No two words in the English language concern us more than 'life' and 'death,'" said Brown in his opening remarks. "Christ gave us to understand that real death is the death of the soul. Life is just a flash of light between two eternities. Those two words hold a tremendous significance to us. The mind is not able to grasp the meaning of eternity. All of us fear death to some extent. 'All that a man hath will be given for his life.' Everywhere and all the time people try to devise some means whereby they can lengthen the slender thread of life.

Everlasting Life

"Who is it that gives life everlasting? No one but God almighty. Life everlasting is right within reach of all of us and we throw it away and live an ungodly life. When we throw away our earthly body we have just begun. Sin produces death and life is a gift of God in Christ Jesus.

"Some think of sin as a contagious disease which children may contract from playing with the neighbor's bad children. Some ministers picture sin as a roaring lion which prowls over the country devouring whom it can find. Others have the idea that sin is intangible like electricity. Sin is a transgression of the laws of Jesus Christ and treason against the highest authority in the universe.

"The word of God gives us to understand that to die in sin is to go down to everlasting hell. Every man who believes in law believes in hell. Every law has its reward and penalty or its hell side and heaven side, and if you violate the law you find the hell side. The laws of God extend throughout eternity.

The reason why a lot of us do not fear death in sin is because we do not know what it means. Sin is not the missing of the mark, as many of us believe, and it is filling hell. The wages of sin which are paid to humans here on earth is death. Death first to our conscience, death to our character, death to our will power, death to our body and at last death to our immortal soul.

"Conscience is that inner voice which directs our action. You can sin against your conscience until it dies. A lot of us can't tell the difference between a live conscience and a dead one. Some of us need a good conscience because we abuse it so terribly."

Character Important

In speaking of character, the evangelist said that if you had a one hundred per cent character you were rich, and if you did not you were poor. "The real wealth of the United States can be measured by the character of its youth. Never has the world placed such a premium on character as it does today! Every sin committed is a stab against your character," he said.

"Nine out of every ten Christians come to God before the age of twenty. After that you have sinned so much that your will power is dead," explained the evangelist. "Every sin also has a direct bearing on your body. You can stab your body with sin until you fall into a premature grave. God pity the boy who has stabbed his body until he literally runs and jumps into hell.

"Don't be afraid of the one who can slay the body, but of the one who has the power to throw your soul into everlasting hell. Christ can save you! Can transform you! Can remake you! shouted Brown in his final appeal. "Come and wash yourself in the fountain of the blood of Christ." The inquiry room was filled with people who surged forward in John Brown's appeal to come out in the clear for Jesus Christ.

Brown announced special services for girls would be arranged later. There will be no morning service next Saturday morning, it was announced. Saturday afternoon at 2:45 the evangelist will deliver a special talk to girls and women on "Husbands, Biscuits and Things."

Proceeding the evening service last night there was a meeting of the finance committee in charge of the campaign.

The service tonight begins at 7:30 o'clock.

L. A. SALESMAN DIES AS AUTO STRIKES TREE

One man was instantly killed and another was badly hurt when the car in which they were riding on the San Diego highway near El Toro suddenly left the road and crashed into a tree at 6 a. m. today. Faulty brakes on the car were given as the cause for the accident. The brakes locked, throwing the car, a heavy roadster, off the road, it is reported.

Sam Pearlman, 45, salesman of women's dresses, of 719 South Los Angeles street, Los Angeles, was killed when his head was crushed in the collision. The driver of the car, Richard Hoff, 44, of 928 West Sixty-third place, Los Angeles, suffered a fractured rib and shock. He was taken to the Orange county hospital, where it was said his condition was not serious.

All information regarding the fatal accident was obtained by state officers and sheriff's officers from Hoff, who is said to have stated that he and Pearlman were on their way to San Diego from Los Angeles at the time.

When they reached the El Toro road intersection, Hoff applied the brakes, which jammed, causing the car to run off the road into the tree, it was said.

The car in which the men were riding was registered to Ada Wiesand of 928 West Sixty-third place, according to L. H. Nicholson, deputy sheriff, who made an investigation.

The body of Pearlman was taken to the Harrell and Brown funeral parlors, where an inquest probably will be held tomorrow, according to Coroner Charles D. Brown.

Horace Fine Is Removed To Home

After a stay of several weeks in Santa Ana Valley hospital, where he underwent a blood transfusion, Horace Fine, veteran newspaper man of Orange county, today was at his home, 1002 North Broadway, much improved in general health as a result of his hospital stay. Physicians have advised him to remain in bed for the present, however, although he is able to greet his many friends.

1931 IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

NO ONE has ever improved upon this Financial Plan . . .

KEEP saved money SAFE and earning good interest with complete regularity—that is all there is to financial betterment. From time to time people have seemed to improve on this plan, but the results have inevitably shown that this method of financial advancement has no safe substitute.

What of your funds? Are they safe? Are they always redeemable at par? Or do they fluctuate from day to day in accordance with conditions you cannot foresee, and over which you have no control?

Is your money earning a steady and adequate yield? Or have interest-defaults or dividend-cuts and omissions interrupted its earning power?

For 42 years the experience of our customers has been uniformly satisfactory. Their capital funds here have never dwindled a penny and have yielded with never-failing regularity the most favorable interest in keeping with safety.

Is it any wonder that the number of our customers has grown until today it exceeds 80 thousand? And that 1826 new customers placed more than one million dollars here in the first 15 days of this month?

Your Funds May Start Earning Interest From the Day Received

You can place funds here in multiples of $100 on an unusually convenient and elastic plan by which you earn interest from the day your funds are received, and arrange to have your semi-annual interest checks mailed to you on dates to suit your convenience. Let us explain how, by this method, you can receive monthly income

A 5% compound interest fund may be started with as little as $3. You may add to your funds as you please and stop when you please.

As for Martha, her sheer loveliness made Peter catch his breath. Every trace of suifness was gone; she was a perfect hostess, gracious, clever, cordial. It was difficult for Peter to recall the

DR. E. M. MILLS AGAIN HONORED BY ROSARIANS

Further honors were bestowed upon Edmund M. Mills, noted rose specialist and retired minister of this city recently when an addition to the Edmund M. Mills rose garden in Thorden park, Syracuse, N. Y., was dedicated to the famous rosarian by officers of the American and the Syracuse Rose societies.

The dedication of the rose garden addition was the main feature of the twenty-second annual rose show of the Syracuse Rose society.

The Edmund M. Mills rose garden was established in April, 1924, and dedicated by the American Rose society.

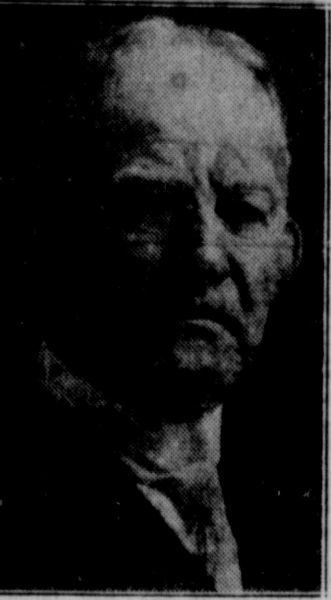

J. Horace McFarland, president of the National Rose society, and Dr. G. Griffen Lewis, head of the Syracuse group, were the principal speakers at the dedication of the new section of the Mills garden.

The famous Mills garden now covers about three acres and contains a few less than 8000 bushes. A total of 170 varieties is represented among the thousands of bushes. The garden is under the joint supervision of the Syracuse Rose society and constitutes one of the finest displays in municipal gardens in America.

Dr. Mills has an unusual rose garden and some rare specimens of these flowers at his home, 2429 Poinsettia street.

HONORED

Dr. Edmund Mills, below, of 2429 Poinsettia street, recently was honored at the twenty-second annual rose show at Syracuse, N. Y., at dedication ceremonies of an addition to a rose garden in a park in that community.

ORANGE COUNTY RECORDER BIG TREASURY AID

Fees collected through the office of County Recorder Justine Whitney provide more than half of the total fee collections turned into the Orange county treasury according to data recently compiled in Sacramento.

Reporting a total amount of $92,789 in fees collected during the year in Orange county, the recorder was responsible for $55,608 of that amount. The combined collection of recorders in the 58 counties of the state represented $1,699,252 or approximately half of the total collections of all license and similar fees collected by the various counties.

Without these fees many of the county governments could not operate, it is reported. Last year the total amount collected over the state and turned into the various treasuries was $3,537,399. Orange county collected the fourth highest amount in the entire state. Los Angeles led with a collection of $7,742,909.

Next to the recorder came the county clerk, as a revenue-producing agent for the county. The 58 county clerks reported a grand total of $832,918 in fee collections last year. Other state totals were as follows:

Sheriff, $128,743; justices of the peace, $24,230; superintendents of schools, $35,266, and miscellaneous, $543,308.

DAMAGE ACTION ASKS $20,000 FROM DOCTOR

Charging that careless, negligent and unskilled treatment caused the loss of her arm, Lila Lee Hayes, 7, through her guardian, Lester Lee Hayes, has filed suit against Dr. F. LeRoy Chapline of Orange, demanding $20,000 for the loss of the arm and an additional $400.25 for hospital and doctors' fees.

The complaint filed by J. B. Tucker, attorney for Hayes, alleged that on July 22, 1930, the Hayes child fractured her left arm and was taken to Dr. Chapline for treatment and that the doctor administered a general anesthetic and set the arm without the aid of a trained assistant or other physician when such assistance could easily have been secured.

The complaint further alleges that an X-ray taken later revealed that the arm had been improperly set and that an attempt was made at a subsequent date to rectify this improper setting.

The doctor is further charged with having placed a plaster of paris cast upon the arm in such a manner that the blood circulation was stopped and that he did not conduct proper examinations of the arm while it was in the cast in spite of the fact that he was informed that the child was suffering from the stoppage of circulation. When the cast was removed, the complainant alleges, it was found that gangrene had set in and that amputation of the arm near the elbow was necessary to save the rest of the arm.

Vacation Party Ends In Court

Accusing her husband of completely ruining what had started as a pleasant week end at Big Bear Lake Helen Beroot yesterday filed suit for divorce from Raymond Beroot charging him with extreme cruelty and inflicting upon her grievous mental and physical sufferings.

In her complaint Mrs. Beroot alleges that on July Fourth last she and her husband went to Big Bear for a weekend trip and that while there he became intoxicated and called her vile names, threw food at her and pulled her from an automobile and so humiliating her before friends that she left him at that time. On July 8, four days after their separation she alleges that Beroot called her on the telephone and threatened to commit suicide and otherwise harassed her to such extent that she became hysterical and almost suffered a nervous breakdown and has, since that time, been in constant fear of her life.

NEW NATIONAL PARK

Among the many fantasies of nature in Lassen Volcanic National park is Hot Rock, pictured above, a huge piece of lava which remained hot for more than a week after being hurled three miles from the crater of Mt. Lassen, shown in the background, during the eruptions of 1914-15. One of the spectacular features of the dedication of this new park will be a mammoth display of smoke and fireworks from the crater of the volcano simulating the actual eruptions. This event will take place on the afternoon and evening of July 25th.

HUNTINGTON PARK MAN DIES IN SURF

R. C. Gove, 35, treasurer of the Baker Oil Tool works, of Huntington Park, died in the surf at Anaheim Landing late last night, while bathing with his wife and a number of friends.

Coroner Charles D. Brown took charge of the body and pronounced death due to heart failure. There will be no inquest.

Gove had been in the water but a few minutes when he expired. A pullmotor was used and the usual artificial respiration methods, but there was no water in the lungs.

Valuable Dogs Are Taken by Thieves

Two valuable canines were stolen from the home of Mrs. Kenneth Conner at Cambridge and Vista street, Villa Park, yesterday, according to a report filed with Orange police. One of the dogs was valued at $300. They were black Scotties. Other residents of the Villa Park district have reported valuable dogs stolen recently, Orange police said.

DEDICATION OF LASSEN PARK STARTS FRIDAY

The greatest display of fireworks ever seen on the Pacific slope will be staged Saturday, in connection with the dedication of Lassen Volcanic National park, in a three-day program, starting tomorrow, it was announced today.

Two "eruptions" of the famous volcano, Mount Lassen, are scheduled, one in the afternoon and the other at night, on July 25. The afternoon demonstration will take the form of a great outpouring of smoke from the crater of the volcano, simulating the actual eruption of 1915. The evening spectacle will include hundreds of rockets, flares, giant Roman candles and aerial explosives—45,000 pieces in all, continuing for an hour and a half and visible for 80 miles.

Completion of a new highway system makes Lassen National park accessible for the first time to the motorist public and it is to celebrate this achievement that the official dedication is being held. The park is reached over two approach roads from United States highway 99, one from Red Bluff, the other from Redding, while the road from Reno leads to the park via Susanville, Westwood and Lassen Volcanic highway. A 30-mile scenic highway, just completed, passes through the heart of the park.

Arrangements for the dedication have been made by a special committee under the sponsorship of the State Chamber of Commerce, as one of the major attractions of California's "festa year," advocated by the California Newspaper Publishers association.

DEPRESSION

We hear a good deal said about depression recently, and it does exist, and there are various causes and remedies proposed.

Some say it is over-production, some one thing, some another. Anyway, we have it and do not like it at all.

When there is over-production, there is the cause, under-consumption, and why under-consumption? Because of the lack of money among so many. And why the lack of money? Because of the lack of employment? Because of avarice, greed, and the never satisfied desire for wealth, regardless of how it is obtained, among so many. In selfishness for self-gratification.

The best rule to go by is the Golden Rule applied in our daily life, but some say do the other fellow before he does you, which is the opposite, and the worst one to go by, and is responsible for a lot of the suffering and injustices existing now.

Depression is oppression, and the hard times existing are not a natural phenomena but the result of specific actions of men.

"Live and let live" is a good motto or rule to go by, or read it backwards, let live and you will live, and live a lot better—so will everyone else.

If we had more money we would buy more and better things and we would have more money if we had more steady employment and as prices are regulated by supply and demand, there would be better prices. Anyway, one helps the other.

Some say they cannot afford to hire anyone because of low prices, or is compelled to pay lower wages for the same reason. As a matter of fact when so many are idle and some on part time, the ability to purchase is greatly reduced and sometimes gone altogether, so low prices are the natural result.

Foreclosures on houses are frequent now, and a great deal of this is done for speculative purposes, making money by causing the loss of money and homes of those who have worked and saved a long time to attain, and turn them over to the army of unemployed or to the county welfare department to care for, in another sense, taking the money from the masses and making the already rich richer and the poor still poorer.

Then there is a good deal of property bought under pressure by installments, the salesman making purchases believe it to be a quick, sure road to wealth. It is a quick road to wealth, if enough lots are sold, but in most cases I believe the wealth or money is made by the seller. I understand a large per cent comes back to the owners or subdividers and is resold many times over. We need a law to prohibit this getting people's money on glittering promises. Then many times these lots are sold at prices many times their real value.

Stock gambling, real estate gambling and even punch board gambling does its work in making times hard. Yet if only liquor was licensed or legalized it would get money into circulation, and it would circulate from those who need it for food, clothing and better houses to live in to the distillers and brewers, who could have sunk gardens beautiful to look at, yet has sunk a vast army of consumers and proved disastrous to their income, to say nothing of ruined health and efficiency. Anything that does not return value received is disastrous to the consumer and the community and the nation.

"It is more blessed to give than receive," Acts 20-35. Suppose we would put this to a test. When someone needs work in order to support his family and it is within our means to do so, we would both be benefited, business would pick up, we would have better feeling toward each other, oppression would cease and with it depression would cease also, as one cause would be eliminated.

There is a way out of our existing conditions if we all would only practice it, but will we do it?
W. A. WINKLEMAN.

Thomas advises. It is reported that in some instances the special excursion fares are almost as low as the regular one-way daily rates.

HOOKS and SLIDES

By William Braucher

DID YOU KNOW THAT—Babe Ruth finally had to put on ankle braces the other day . . . when he swung and missed, he strained his thin ankles . . . and was limping . . . Lou Gehring hit homers in three consecutive games recently . . . Was Schulmerich has legs like oak trees . . . he used to be a professional wrestler . . . "Lefty" O'Doul raised his batting mark 90 points within a month of play . . . and the Robins came right up during that month, too . . . "Tillie" Walker, former slugger with the As, is reported to be ill and broke at his home in Limestone, Tenn. . . . Bill Shores will start winning ball games pretty soon.

ROMANCE

Where would Ben Chapman be now if Babe Ruth hadn't collided with Catcher Berry in Boston? . . . and if Myril Hoag hadn't fallen on his shoulder and rendered his throwing arm null and void? . . . and if Sam Byrd hadn't pulled a Charley horse and Dusty Cooke hadn't torn a cartilage in his shoulder?

Well, he probably never would have been in that Yankee outfield. And might never have had a chance to prove himself the best base thief since Ty Cobb.

There is another side, too. The Yankees did not want Ben to marry. But with Ben playing a great game and threatening that if the club wouldn't consent to his marriage he would leave the team cold, the Yankees changed their minds about Ben and let him go through with a romance that started in dear old school days.

Thus, Babe Ruth, Myril Hoag, Sam Byrd and Dusty Cooke all helped to make it possible for Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chapman to be happy. Maybe life is a beautiful thing, after all.

BURKOWSKI'S $1750

The value of the national open championship is $1750. They gave Billie Burkowski time and a half for overtime this year, making $1750 in all. That isn't an awful lot of money, of course (did somebody speak?) but that really isn't all.

"Burke should earn anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000 with that title," Ed Dudley told me the other day. "Of course, I don't know whether he will or not."

"All he has to do is hire a manager to arrange exhibition matches. He could sell these matches at $250 to $500 each. He might even get one grand for some of the shows. Anyway, in a year you could easily figure on $20,000 worth of these."

Then the newspapers and magazines. He could syndicate a flock of articles for a couple of thousands. Sporting goods and other endorsements ought to bring thousands more. Just a breeze to make $50,000, and that amount could be increased with smart handling and schedules for the matches."

Apparently, it isn't the original cost of an open champion, but the upkeep.

WHITE SHIRTS

Wally Gilbert, third baseman of good old Uncle Robbie's Superbas, figured the week-day series in St. Louis would give the Robins one advantage. It seems that on Saturdays and Sundays a mob of white-shirted fans gather in the outfield. With Bill Hallahan pitching and the ball coming out of the glaring background, the Robins do not hit Mr. Hallahan's sidearm curves with any regularity.

Well, well, and a couple of Ohs

SHARKEY, WALKER OUT OF RING RACE

Night Ball League Totters, May Collapse

PETERKIN OUT TO ERADICATE EVILS IN '32

Only the strong arm of a skillful president was holding the tottering National Night Baseball league together today.

With signs of disintegration everywhere, there was evidence that the once powerful confederacy might not survive what started out to be its most successful season.

Overzealous entrepreneurs, obviously responsible, may have killed the goose that laid the golden eggs.

At any rate, George Peterkin, the leader of the circuit, doing all in his power to keep the "weak sisters" of the circuit together another quarter, is known to be working on stringent "fool-proof" regulations he will put in effect next season to prevent the strong from raiding the weak for reinforcements.

Either they will be adopted or Peterkin will resign, he already has officially announced.

Santa Ana, Anaheim and Olive, long the "Big Three" of Orange county night ball, are the only cities in the league on sound financial and family footing. All of the others are up against it one way or another. They are financially embarrassed, wracked by internal dissension or simply unable to cope with the weather clubs in the matter of obtaining talent.

Huntington Beach, heretofore well established, is the latest to be depressed and discouraged by developments. Although the Oilers have been up in the race all season and playing fine, colorful ball, they are on the verge of a breakup. Jack Robertson, genial sponsor of the outfit, has assured officials that Huntington Beach will see the season through, but after that makes no promises.

Huntington Beach has just lost the services of Odie Maness, regarded as the best hitter in night baseball, who suddenly demanded his release in order to join Anaheim before the July 24 "deadline" for transfer of players from one team to another.

Whittier, first half champion of 1930, is floundering in the cellar now. Virtually all of the "old timers" who made the Poles potent in night ball in other seasons have turned in their suits. Obviously, things aren't going right at Whittier.

Long Beach, another former champion, sunk so low in personal interest that it forfeited a game to Anaheim last Friday. No reason for this was given. Only eight men showed up for the contest. The Acorns haven't drawn fans at their home games, have never had the same lineup two nights in a row.

Fullerton has been held together by safety pins for the past month. Once a great baseball town, Fullerton is about ready to give up the ghost, it is understood.

Garden Grove, a charter member of the league, has already withdrawn. The Peppers frankly admitted that they couldn't make both ends meet and no longer were able to keep pace with the financial speed of "some of the others."

Westminster and North Long Beach, the baby members, both admitted on trial, have held up fairly well although both are likely to drop the campaign in the red. Nevertheless although playing under hardships and handicaps, they have always been on the field at the appointed time with hustling clubs.

Only Santa Ana, Anaheim and Olive are certain to survive the tempest, and even Olive is complaining of financial difficulties.

MICKEY 'INHUMAN' SAYS MRS. WALKER

NEW YORK, July 23.—(UP)—An order directing the sheriff to attach Mickey Walker's share of the gate receipts of last night's Walker-Sharkey fight was signed today by Supreme Court Justice Edward Byrne in Brooklyn on behalf of Mrs. Maude Walker, the fighter's wife.

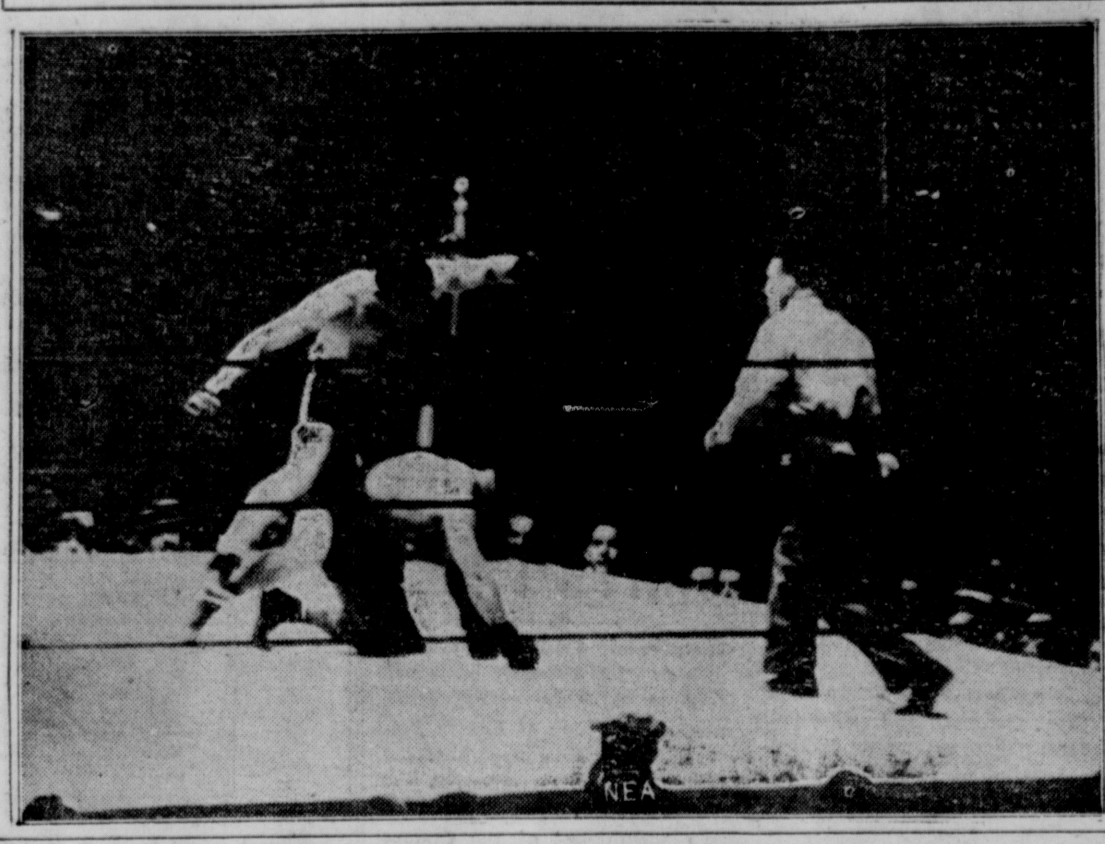

Mrs. Walker charged the fighter with "diabolically inhuman" conduct toward her and their two children, stating that Walker "became involved in various love affairs with other women and openly boasted of them."

"He even brought some of them to our home to flaunt before me," she said.

Walker's income was alleged to be $100,000 a year, enough to enable him to keep polo ponies, servants and automobiles. Mrs. Walker claims $27,800 as reimbursement for money she said she spent for the support of the two Walker children.

MICKEY FALLS, JACK STUMBLES OVER HIM

NEA telephoto, rushed to The Register by airplane and fast mails, shows Mickey Walker slipping, with Jack Sharkey stumbling over him, in fifth round of ring battle at Ebbets field, New York City. The bout was called a draw at the end of the 15th round.

HILL-GARDENS TAKE THRILLER FROM HAWLEYS

Like Old Man River of verse and song, the Hill-Garden Clothiers roll on and on, collecting new night baseball victories here and there as they go.

Although pressed to the limit, the first half champions of the Santa Ana City league won at the Bowl again last night, defeating Hawley's Sporting Goods, 5-4, in one of the hardest contests of the entire schedule.

This gave the Hill-Gardens their third successive win of the second round and installed them as favorites to capture the city title without the formality of a playoff.

The Hawley's almost overhauled the champions with a thrilling three-run rally in the fifth inning when "Red" Kilder singled, Harold Daley walked, and Harold Pangle doubled and "To" Blower was safe on an error, all in rapid succession, but Wilson Seacord, young Hill-Garden gunner, steadied at this point and pitched himself out of the hole. The Sportsmen got their other run in the second when Pangle blasted a home run.

Hill and Garden made all their hits off veteran Jimmy Mansfield count. Sands beat out a hit in the first, scored on a series of passed balls. This happened again in the third when W. Seacord singled, coming all the way around on passed balls. Errors put Arnold and Higashi on base in the third and they both scored when the Hawley catchers couldn't handle Mansfield's speed. E. Seacord's double and an outfield error allowed what proved to be the winning tally in the fifth.

Monroe's pharmacy nosed out the Spurgeon M. E. South, church nine, in the curtain-raiser, 3 to 2. It was a dandy pitchers' duel between Mack Castor of the Drugists and Earl Jones of the South Methodists. After the Churchmen tied the score at two-all in the last of the sixth, the Drugists pushed around their winning marker in the first of the seventh, Mitchell hitting safely, going to third on a passed ball and an infield out and scoring on Wright's single.

Two more games tonight: Baptists vs. Presbyterians, 7 p. m.; A's Auto Service vs. 20-30 club, 8 p. m.

Mrs. Rockne To See Grid Play Filmed

CHICAGO, July 23.—(UP)—Knut Rockne's widow will watch the filming in Hollywood of a motion picture dedicated to the famous Notre Dame football coach's memory, it was learned today.

Mrs. Rockne attended a luncheon yesterday at which eight stars on former Rockne football teams were guests. The former players have parts in the motion picture, which will be called "The Spirit of Notre Dame."

Suddenly, Mrs. Rockne decided that she would accompany them to California. She left immediately for her home at South Bend, Ind., to pack, returned and boarded the train with "Rock's boys."

With her went Bill Rockne, 15-year-old son of her and the former coach.

Just couldn't see them go without me," Mrs. Rockne said. "It seems like the last chapter in Knute's history and I want to see it written."

ROOSEVELT BEATEN BY ANAHEIM, 4-3

The Shipkey-Pierson team of Anaheim evened the count in the series with the Roosevelt Play-ground team of Santa Ana yesterday, winning, 4-3, in the last of the ninth inning.

It was a pitchers' battle between Gregory and Oswald. Gregory allowed only two hits and struck out nine Anaheim batsmen.

In the first, Frank Pope was safe on an error by McElean, went to third on Gonzales' double and scored on a passed ball, Gonzales going to third and scoring on another passed ball. The other run came in the third inning when Harmons walked, stole second and third and came home on a passed ball.

Anaheim got two runs in the third on a walk, a couple of passed balls and two errors. Another one came in the fifth on an error, a stolen base and a sacrifice. The winning run was made by Anderson. He walked and stole second, went to third on a passed ball, and tallied after a long fly to Woodyard.

The score:

Gurhing Is Victor Over Les Kennedy

OAKLAND, July 23.—(UP)—Ernest Gurhing, 204, German heavyweight, plowed his way to a 10-round decision over Les Kennedy, 191½, the Long Beach longshoreman, here last night. The fight was fairly even until the 10th, when Gurhing outpunched and outmailed Kennedy to catch the referee's eye.

CALLAHAN CLUB IN VICTORY AT WESTMINSTER

"Mushy" Callahan's Haberdashers, night baseball champions of Los Angeles, had come and gone from Orange county today but they left behind a rather favorable impression of their playing ability at Westminster where last night they defeated the Aviators, 5-2.

The uptown team, product of the erstwhile world's junior welterweight boxing champion, got off to a good start on young "Blondy" DeBusk, Westminster's pitcher, and made enough runs to win before the kid settled down.

Levy made the rounds for the Callahans in the first inning and Fletcher Hoehn's homer, with two aboard, made it 4-0 in the second. Tolmasoff's homer in the eighth accounted for the Haberdashers' other tally.

Westminster got both its scores in the fourth when Bill Gardner and DeBusk both walked and scored on "Speed" Hankmire's double. Sauers followed with a walk and then Baker cracked a long drive to deep left but Specks swallowed it after a long run and Westminster's big rally was abruptly terminated.

Both pitchers were quite effective, DeBusk fanning 15, Hoehn 12. The box score:

COCHET'S AUSTIN IN DAVIS CUP PLAY

PARIS, July 23.—(INS)—Draw in the Davis cup challenge round matches between Great Britain and France, scheduled to be under way at the Roland Garros stadium tomorrow, was announced today.

Henri Cochet, ace of the French squad, will meet "Bunny" Austin of Britain in the opening match tomorrow.

They will be followed by Jean Borotra versus Fred Perry. The doubles will take place Saturday. The players have not yet been named.

Contra Costa May Get $300,000 Turf

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—(UP)—Plans for still another horse-racing plant in the San Francisco bay district were announced today by William P. Kyne, Reno promoter, who said he probably will build a $300,000 track in Contra Costa county.

Kyne's announcement came shortly after Attorney General U. S. Webb said he was preparing the title to an initiative petition to be circulated in the state asking the return of legalized betting on horse races.

SHARKEY GETS $75,000 BUT LOSES PRESTIGE

BY BILL CORUM (I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 23.—Jack Sharkey did not lose his fight with game little Mickey Walker at Ebbets field last evening, but he lost his staunchest backer.

Pace to face with a pale-blue-eyed fighting man who walked steadily into him as though fully aware he was the second-rater he turned out to be, the fellow I have been touting as the uncrowned heavyweight champion of the world flinched and fumbled away the rest of the fight.

But it is my conviction—and I say this without wishing to take anything from the courageous, hard-fighting Walker—that Sharkey did not try a lick. And so whoever wants him for their champion hereafter can have him.

I seem to hear a great silence. Sharkey Gets $75,000. Sharkey must have got $75,000 out of a gate of $225,000. I wish him well with it. He lost a million dollars' worth of prestige, and the promoter who tries not to put him in with Max Schmeling should be hissed out of town.

If he can't even knock down a middleweight that ham-and-egged such as Swiderski and "Gorilla" Jones and Forgione and Latzo and what-nots have spread, why should he be permitted to fight again for the heavyweight championship?

You know what Schmeling would have done to Walker last night, don't you? He would have knocked him out because he would have tried to knock him out.

Schmeling would not have waited until the fight was two-thirds over to start throwing his right hand—whenever Sharkey threw his in the first eight rounds, it looked as though he was firing it at somebody in the 15th row.

Walker Does the Fighting. Not that it wasn't a good fight to watch. It was. The crowd of close to 40,000, which packed the little Brooklyn ball park, got a run for its money.

They came to see Walker fight, and Walker did the fighting. The "Rumson Bulldog" finished every rally. And time after time forced the much-to-cool and complacent sailor to break and hold. What a fighting heart that Mickey has!

I'm afraid that remains his chief stock in trade, for, if he had been a daisy in his dressing room afterward, said that he would have won the fight if it hadn't been for this annoying injury, and I am inclined to agree with him.

Personally I thought the draw decision was eminently fair, and certainly it fitted into the spirit of the occasion. Practically every mob man in New York walked into the dressing rooms after the fight with broad grins on their faces to tell the principals how much they enjoyed themselves. Sharkey and Walker took it the same way.

The chances are Walker will not get the shot next spring with Schmeling, not off this fight at any rate, but he should be able to make some money in vaudeville and in pictures on the strength of spotting Sharkey 29 pounds and chasing him around as though he were a lightweight.

There wouldn't be no complaint if he would restrain himself in making—and he can make himself.

Once he does groove his play, puts efficiency above sensation, I don't think a shortstop in the country will compare with him. He's faster than most and a marvelous thrower. Also he's a corking good hitter; he packs a solid punch and hits 'em in the pitches.

"A truly great player in the making—and he can make himself."

The Santa Ana-Torrance contest and its incidental attraction, a brief battle between police of North and South Orange county, is expected to attract a near capacity throng to the Bowl. Torrance holds decision over Anaheim and Whittier.

Peace Officers Of County Sell Benefit Ducats

All peace officers in Orange county are selling tickets for the benefit night baseball game to be played here next Wednesday between Santa Ana and Torrance.

Jesse Elliott, Santa Ana constable, in charge of arrangements, announced today.

Receipts will go to the widow's and orphans' fund of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, Elliott stated.

The Santa Ana-Torrance contest and its incidental attraction, a brief battle between police of North and South Orange county, is expected to attract a near capacity throng to the Bowl. Torrance holds decision over Anaheim and Whittier.

LONDON, July 23.—(UP)—The Vince Dundee-Len Harvey middleweight bout scheduled for next Monday was canceled because Harvey was ill with a septic throat cold.

Bell, White Meet In S. A. Net Feature

Randolph Bell and Toby White, premier Santa Ana tennis players, were scheduled to meet at 5:15 p. m. today in one of the two feature matches of the city tournament, now nearing completion. They were matched on the high school courts.

Bell is thus far undefeated in the round-robin tournament and was a slight favorite over White, former junior college champion, but White's tennis was considered good enough to extend Bell to the utmost.

White completed his training for the set-to with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Lester Slaback Tuesday

W. C. T. U. HEADS IN SPEECHES AT BEACH SESSION

ORANGE, July 23.—Pearl Kendall Hess of this city, national director of medical temperance of the W. C. T. U., was one of the speakers at the meeting of the Southern California Women's Temperance union at the Pacific Palisades yesterday. Other speakers included Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, state president, and Ben F. Gels, San Francisco attorney.

Mrs. Hess told the findings of the American Medical association in 1917 when this body declared that alcohol has no value as a tonic, stimulant or food value.

Mrs. Hess said that the patent medical industry is one of the curses in the United States of America today.

Mrs. Anna Marden Deyo spoke on "The Strength of Our Cause," naming the factors on the side of temperance, the church, women, the drinkers who want temptation removed, and God. Mrs. De Yo said in part: "In less than five years after the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers the saloon was planted on American soil. Today the Parent-Teacher association, one of the fastest growing associations in our land, and the National Education association are staunch supporters for the 18th amendment. The women of the nation are dry today because of the memory of the outrage of the saloon day. Nineteen states of our Union have enforcement laws, 23 held and strengthened the enforcement law and 42 took action during the past year, a record never before equalled.

These statistics strengthen shown in the savings deposits of the working man, 5,000 more savings deposits accounts last year than ever before. Thirty-six states prohibit the drinking of beer."

Ben F. Gels said in part: "Abuse is the absence of all art. Two methods have been used to control the liquor traffic, regulation and prohibition. The dean of the medical profession has said 'Prohibition will be the greatest contribution to public health ever made. In San Francisco last year 2,450 arrests were made for the violation of prohibition and only 11 were acquitted. Forty per cent less liquor is being consumed than before the 18th amendment. There are 66 federal officers in California and 20,000 officers for the enforcement of the Wright act in California.

Eighty per cent of the bootleggers last year were foreigners; 33 per cent not even citizens. Seventy-five per cent of bootlegging is sent back to his own country. "Fifty-two per cent of convicts are under 21 years of age. About 5,000,000 will cast their first vote for the next president. Our method of procedure is through the medium of education."

Bernard Melickian of the Pasadena college won first prize in the Intercollegiate Oratorical contest and William R. Stonecipher of the University of California at Los Angeles was second. John C. Porter, mayor of Los Angeles, presented the prizes.

Bids For School Garage Opened by Board Tomorrow

ORANGE, July 23.—A meeting of the board of trustees of the Orange Union high school is to be held tomorrow night at the school at which time bids for the erection of a garage are to be opened.

TUMBLERS IN PROGRAM FOR 20-30 GROUP

ORANGE, July 23.—An unusual program was given at the meeting of the 20-30 club last evening following the regular 6:30 o'clock dinner at the American Legion clubhouse. Two physical education teachers, Miss Charlotte Eck of Miami, O., and Miss Anna Pottschmidt, of Cincinnati, O., who are guests of Mrs. Christine Lampert, 523 North Pine street, gave a number of tap dances and tumbling acts. Mrs. Lampert played several piano solos. Miss Eck is Mrs. Lampert's sister.

The first number was a Bowery tap dance, with Miss Eck in the role of a bowery boy and Miss Pottschmidt as a girl. Miss Eck then gave a solo dance in a costume which included black velvet shorts and a gold satin blouse. She followed this number with an encore, "Marching to Dixie Land."

The tumbling acts by both young women included knee, shoulder and head stands, individual and coupling work and fish flops. The closing number was given to the melody of "Would You Like to Take a Walk?" with a gangster motif.

Miss Eck is supervisor of physical education in the public schools of Dayton, O., and Miss Pottschmidt in the schools of Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. W. C. Leichtfuss, president of the club, announced that the first ball game of the season for the club would be played tonight at Fullerton.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Taylor, of 241 North Center street, were Mrs. Taylor's mother, Mrs. C. H. Tandy, and Clifford Tandy of Kentucky.

The Orange Blossoms, 4-H club girls club of Orange, met in an all day session July 23 in the home of their adult advisor, Mrs. R. F. Schroeder of Fairhaven. During the business session the points to be achieved to win the honor of being a delegate of the organization on a week's trip to the state agricultural school at Davis next month were presented by Mrs. Schroeder. The trophy won in demonstration team work at Camp Radford has been received by the club and is in the form of a beautiful silver statuette with a shield inscribed with the name of the club. The noon hour was a lively one with a pot luck luncheon and the afternoon spent in sewing on the dresses being made by the girls under the direction of their leader. Members present at the day's gathering were Evelyn Johnson, Ruth Sincera, Marie Sanders, Lubertha Morgan, Nancy Laurie and Lucille Holman. The next meeting of the club will be in two weeks, on August 5, in the Schroeder home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caster and daughter, Imogene, and son Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hobbs and daughter Betty and son Bobby, all of North Pine street, enjoyed a picnic supper at Irvine park last evening.

Mrs. Ida V. Putman of 221 East Palmyra avenue is the recipient of a letter from Mrs. Grace A. Cleveland, of North Tustin street, written from Chicago, en route to her destination at Hardwick, Mass., where she will spend the remainder of the summer in the home of her sister, Mrs. Ellis Barnes. Mrs. Barnes spent the summer three years ago in Orange as guest in the homes of relatives and many friends during her sojourn here.

The Women's Christian Temperance union day at the Pacific Palisades yesterday was attended by Mesdames Pearl Kendall Hess, Minnie Neville, Hart Pennington, Flora Ralph and Angeline Courtney.

Members of the Royal Neighbors of America met in the Smith and Grote hall last evening. Amanda Amos presided. Mrs. Lenora Palmer of Santa Ana was a visitor. Mrs. C. O. Miller of South Cambridge street, invited the lodge to hold a picnic at the next meeting August 4, at her home. A pot luck dinner will be served under the large sycamore trees. Mrs. Hart Pennington will be in charge of the games.

AUXILIARY PLANS
NEWPORT BEACH, July 23.—Homecoming night will be held at the Legion hut Monday evening by the Legion Auxiliary, when many of the past presidents and former members, now living out of town, will be present. A pot luck dinner will be held at 8:30 p. m., to be followed by a social evening.

Mrs. Ida V. Putman of 221 East Palmyra avenue is the recipient of a letter from Mrs. Grace A. Cleveland, of North Tustin street, written from Chicago, en route to her destination at Hardwick, Mass., where she will spend the remainder of the summer in the home of her sister, Mrs. Ellis Barnes. Mrs. Barnes spent the summer three years ago in Orange as guest in the homes of relatives and many friends during her sojourn here.

The Women's Christian Temperance union day at the Pacific Palisades yesterday was attended by Mesdames Pearl Kendall Hess, Minnie Neville, Hart Pennington, Flora Ralph and Angeline Courtney.

Members of the Royal Neighbors of America met in the Smith and Grote hall last evening. Amanda Amos presided. Mrs. Lenora Palmer of Santa Ana was a visitor. Mrs. C. O. Miller of South Cambridge street, invited the lodge to hold a picnic at the next meeting August 4, at her home. A pot luck dinner will be served under the large sycamore trees. Mrs. Hart Pennington will be in charge of the games.

AUXILIARY PLANS
NEWPORT BEACH, July 23.—Homecoming night will be held at the Legion hut Monday evening by the Legion Auxiliary, when many of the past presidents and former members, now living out of town, will be present. A pot luck dinner will be held at 8:30 p. m., to be followed by a social evening.

Forest Smokers Fined In Orange

ORANGE, July 23.—W. C. Brumby and E. P. Griggs of Fullerton appeared in the court of Judge A. W. Swayze yesterday on charges of smoking in a restricted fire district in the Santiago canyon. Robert E. Reed, deputy fire warden, arrested the men. Both were given fines of $50, with $40 suspended.

If either of the men is found smoking in restricted fire districts before the opening of the rainy season, the remainder of the fines will be levied at once. Judge Swayze declared yesterday. H. L. Wilson, arrested on the same charge, will appear some time this week.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, July 23.—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Estep are enjoying a month's visit in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chaffee and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burchfield enjoyed Sunday dinner with Mrs. Mary Young. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Shellhammer at Huntington Park. Miss Young, who is in charge of the music department at Seoul, Korea, is home on a year's furlough. She was Mrs. Chaffee's Sunday school and music teacher for a number of years.

Lester Van Vranken, son of Mrs. A. Van Vranken of Garden Grove, and Miss Margaret Viola Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Harsh, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 410 South Humphrey street, Belvedere Gardens.

The bride was dressed in a dress of pink flat crepe. Pink and white roses were used for decoration throughout the home. Only immediate relatives were in attendance.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will make their home in Whittier, where Mr. Van Vranken is employed in the Whittier wall nut packing house. He attended high school in Garden Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bryan entertained a group of friends at their home on East Stanford St. Saturday evening. Bridge was the diversion of the evening. First prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Orley Wright, Santa Ana, and second prize went to Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Benke of Anaheim. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Benke, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zimmer of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Beckley of Pomona, Mr. and Mrs. Orley Wright of Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan.

Lt. Com. R. V. Adams and family left Tuesday for Long Beach, where they will make their home. They arrived last week from Washington, D. C. and have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Adams.

The death chamber where the prisoner awaits the day of execution is heavily guarded and every reasonable wish is granted the condemned man. On the march to the gallows he is accompanied by a spiritual adviser, the warden and several guards.

The cell blocks are large enough for two prisoners. The men are put in at 6 p. m. and lights are turned out at 9 p. m. A library furnishes them with reading matter. However, California newspapers are barred from the prison. A number of prisoners also take

PRISON VISIT DESCRIBED FOR ORANGE LIONS

ORANGE, July 23.—The Rev. William L. Newman, pastor of the Buena Park Congregational church was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions club at the American Legion clubhouse yesterday noon, when he spoke on "A Day in San Quentin." The speaker was introduced by Dr. W. M. Tipple, who was chairman of the day. C. W. Coffey, first vice president presided.

The speaker told of what he saw and of some of the men he met when he spent a day in San Quentin last fall and was taken through the various departments. The identification room is the entry to the prison, the speaker said, and the 3000 prisoners now confined behind the walls of San Quentin all have their records filed in this department. The pastor said Kid McCoy at the prison and the once famous boxer and champion is now the chief of the prison fire department.

"In the jute mill, there are about 800 men employed," the speaker said. "The mill is the major enterprise of the prison."

"The prison has its own barber shop where prisoners may learn that trade. The men eat in two shifts and wholesome meals are given them. As soon as they are finished eating they all are allowed the freedom of the grounds for a short period. The grounds are kept in fine order, flowers of all kinds being cared for by the inmates."

"The prison has its own printing plant where a number of the men are employed. Adjoining this room is the execution chamber with its 13 steps leading to the gallows. The room is painted light blue and the pictures of 154 men executed are on the walls. Northcott was hung there a few days before. Three men cut a cord, one of which releases the trap."

Chas. Harrington Funeral Services Held Wednesday

ORANGE, July 23.—Funeral services for Charles Harrington, 88, were held at 10 o'clock Wednesday at the Gilly Funeral home. The Rev. L. V. Lucas, pastor of the First Methodist church officiated. Miss Mae Kimball sang, "The City Four-Square" and "Lead, Kindly Light," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. R. M. Warren.

Palbearers were A. R. Todhunter, S. P. Sault, S. A. Loose, Jesse Campbell, Fred Perkins and S. M. Patton. Interment was made in the Fairhaven cemetery, with a large attendance of friends present at the last rites.

Mr. Harrington passed away Monday at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mae Parsons, 167 North Grand street. He had resided in the Parsons home for the last 32 years and had resided in Kansas for a time before coming to Orange and was a native of Bennington, Vt.

BEAUTIFUL LILY BLOOMS DISPLAYED

ORANGE, July 23.—Mrs. Clara Browne Handley brought a number of beautiful water lily blooms to the office of Judge A. W. Swayze yesterday from the pond at her home near Olive, where she is growing a number of rare varieties of this flower. Mrs. Handley, who is acting as secretary to the judge for the summer months, is interested in water gardening and has a pool about 7x9 feet in her garden.

Mrs. Handley finds fish raising a most fascinating avocation and a pleasant diversion from her duties as teacher in the Olive schools. The fish lay their eggs on the under side of the lily pads, she says, and for this reason she takes the water from the cement-lined pool but once a year. Boxes of soil are used to hold the lilies and Japanese snails, which act as scavengers, also utilize the leaves of the lilies as hatcheries.

Mrs. Handley believes that a lily and fish pond may be made successfully by anyone who cares to give it a little attention, and the color and beauty of the waxy blossoms, which open each morning to the sun, and the slim, dancing goldfish, who are sheltered by the shade of the plants, well repay the labor expended, she says.

BRILLE TESTS COMPLETED BY ORANGE WOMEN

ORANGE, July 23.—Mrs. Robert Johnson, president of the Red Cross chapter of this city, and Mrs. A. D. Burkett, members of the Braille transcribing class, which meets each week at the city hall, Monday afternoons, have completed their preliminary test, which must be finished before 50 word tests may be undertaken. The results of their class work have been sent to Washington, D. C., for grading. If the test meets requirements both women will receive certificates on these trial manuscripts.

Mrs. P. W. Ehlen, also a member of the class, is now working on the 50 word test which, if completed successfully, will entitle her to become an authorized transcriber of Braille. She has already received her certificate for a trial test from the Braille Transcribing section, Service for the Blind, Library of Congress, Washington, D. C.

Miss Bessie Sawyer of this city, who has been blind since a child, corrects all work done in class and on the preliminary tests returns corrections typed by left self.

The paper used by Braille students, of the sort approved by the Red Cross and which does not contain ground wood pulp or sulphite fibre, as these materials makes the paper brittle. The writing is done by pressing dots in various combinations into the paper. Erasers of metal are used to smooth the paper back in its original form, if mistakes are made.

Comparatively few books and magazines are available to the blind, says Mrs. Johnson and members of Braille classes who are working to be able to supply this great need are potential factors in giving the blind many hours of happiness.

SET TRIAL DATE
ORANGE, July 23.—James Odor is to appear in the court of Judge A. W. Swayze August 20 at 9:30 a. m. to answer a charge of taking three tons of glass, the property of Thomas R. Johnson. The glass is valued at $13, according to records at the city hall.

Urbana Vernal will appear in court here on July 31 at 1:30 p. m. to answer a charge of petty theft preferred by M. D. Payton. Vernal is alleged to have taken 22 pounds of avocados, valued at $4.16.

AMUSING YARN OF RADIO 'HASH' BRINGS LAUGHS

The following article was written by a Wichita Falls, Kans., man who gives it as the experience of one who had a new radio and had not learned how to tune out cross currents.

He got three stations on the same wave length. On one was a minister. On another was a man telling of road conditions. The third station had as speaker a poultry expert. Here is what he reports he heard:

"The Old Testament tells us baby chicks should devour one mile south of the prophets. Be careful of the selection of your eggs and you will find hard surfaced road on to Garden City."

"We find in Genesis that the roads are muddy just west of the hen house and clean straw is essential if you would save your soul."

"After passing through Leavenworth turn north to Jericho. Three wise men bought a large sized incubator on account of a bad detour."

"The baby chicks had the pip and a bond issue is talked of in the Holy City. Keep the feet clean and dry, live a life of righteousness and turn one mile west of the school house."

"Much care should be exercised in commanding the sun to stand still as there is a bad wash out at Paola and the road to salvation is under repair, making it necessary for 70 degrees in the broader house at all times."

"After you leave Winfield, unless you do three things, the wrath of the Lord will cause the pin feathers to fall out and detour one mile south. Many are called but few have any luck unless the gravel road between Topeka and Lawrence is mixed with the feed. Out of 500 eggs, one should get roads from Coffeyville to Tulsa. Noah was told to build an ark just one mile west of Wichita. It rained 40 days and nights and caused an eight mile detour just west of the broader house. Many tourists from the House of David are trying the Plymouth mixed with concrete and a desire to do right."

EIGHT CHILDREN TO PRESENT PROGRAM

Lorene Croddy, director of the children's hour programs for KREG, today announced the child artists who will appear on this feature broadcast tomorrow morning from 11:30 until noon.

Solleen Billings, singer; Glen Layton, singer and guitar player; Stanley Sebastian, singer, and David Hunter, pianist are some of the entertainers billed. Others who will appear include Mary Elise Hankey, pianist; John Hankey, vocalist; and Lorna Mae Hankey, vocalist.

Robert Spohn will also appear with this group at the studio and take part in the program. Tryouts for the children's hour are conducted by Lorene Croddy in the main studio at KREG every Wednesday from 2 until 3 p.m.

RADIO FEATURES

Seasonal menus and recipes will be presented by Miss Jean Stewart, collaborator with the Federal bureau of home economics, in the first of her series of week end talks with western housewives, a series to be called "The Market Basket," when the Western Farm and Home Hour is presented over an NBC network tomorrow afternoon from 12:15 to 1 o'clock. Carl J. Hansen in a review of the week's trading on fruit and vegetable markets, and a feature with Joseph Keyes of the bureau of biological survey, will figure in the other department of agriculture periods of the Western Farm and Home Hour.

BEHIND THE MIKE

KREG purchased some new phonograph records the other day, among them being the popular "At Your Command," and ever since has been swamped with commands to play this number. It looks like it's going to give "Just One More Chance" a run for its money as the most popular number from the studio.

Dot McCune and Ted Newcomb sang a brand new song hit over KREG Tuesday night. "Ain't That the Way It Goes" was the title and have been requested to repeat the number on an early broadcast.

A new orchestra will provide dance tunes tonight for KREG fans from 9 until 9:30 o'clock. The organization is billed as Glen Osborne's orchestra, and they promise something new in the way of snappy dance music.

Johnny Maxwell has promised to repeat "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" on his broadcast tonight from KREG. Maxwell is known as the tenor with a tear in his voice and his program comes from 9:30 until 10 p.m.

New Orchestra To Broadcast Dance Music

Glen Osborne's orchestra, a new musical organization to KREG radio fans, will be on the air tonight from 9 until 9:30 o'clock, according to an announcement made late today by Ted Newcomb, KREG program director.

KREG fans can roll up the rugs and dance to the melody of the latest dance tunes tonight during this broadcast. Arrangements are being made to have this orchestra broadcast weekly as a regular feature of the KREG programs.

FORMER REVELERS ON TIRE PROGRAM

The Selberling Singers, popular recording artists, return to KREG tonight by means of an electrical transcription for 15 minutes of melody from 7:30 until 7:45 o'clock. It was announced today.

This series of programs is sponsored by the Orange county Selberling tire dealers and is broadcast every Friday night at the same hour.

The Selberling Singers comprise one of the most popular musical organizations on the air and were formerly known as the Revelers. Their programs as presented over KREG are of the highest type.

Announcements concerning the new revolutionary Triple-Tread Selberling tire will be made during the program, it is said.

Australia has been termed the land of pests, mostly imported from other countries. One of these is the prickly pear, a plant of American origin, which has spread over 50,000,000 acres of land in Queensland and New South Wales.

WANDERERS TO MAKE DEBUT HERE TONIGHT

A new musical organization never before heard by KREG radio fans will be presented from the studio tonight when the Wanderers broadcast from 7:45 until 8:15 p.m. This group hails from Long Beach and promises 30 minutes of real music and song.

The Wanderers feature popular Hawaiian music with vocal refrains.

Johnny Maxwell, the popular KREG tenor will be on the program tonight from 9:30 until 10 o'clock with a number of late songs. This artist is rapidly becoming the most popular male vocalist on the Santa Ana broadcasting station and his programs are always looked forward to with interest, it is said.

Another Crazy House half hour featuring Dot McCune, Ruth Murdoch, Freddie Dean and Ted Newcomb is scheduled from 10 until 10:30 p.m. and the Melodians, a favorite musical organization, will be on the air from 8:30 until 9 p.m.

The Selberling Singers come to listeners by means of an electrical transcription from 7:30 until 7:45 p.m. This program is sponsored by the Orange county Selberling tire dealers. A studio program of all request phonograph records is booked from 9 until 9:30 p.m. and the Texas Cowboys will broadcast old time melodies from 5:30 until 6 p.m. Late news is read from 6 until 6:15 and the Shoppers' Guide program comes from 6:15 until 7 o'clock on tonight's program.

Builders Anticipate 250 At Picnic And Conference

AUTO CARAVAN TO PARADE ON WAY TO PARK

A caravan of 100 cars that will leave the corner of Third and Ross streets at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow will begin the annual Orange County Builders exchange picnic and midsummer meeting of the Builders Exchange conference of Southern California. It was announced today by Frederic Sanford, secretary of the Orange county exchange.

The cars in the parade will be driven and occupied by members, employees and families of the Builders exchange. The cars will parade through Fullerton, Brea, Placentia, Olive and Orange on the way to Irvine park, where the affair will be held. About 250 are expected to attend, including delegates to the conference from nearly every city in Southern California.

Upon arrival in the park a series of sports events have been arranged for those attending. A balloon race, in charge of Rodney Bacon; a nail driving contest for women in charge of Mrs. Norb Lentz; a centipede race in charge of Bob Westman; a potato race in charge of Jack Farney; a cracker eating contest in charge of Mrs. Lentz; a horse shoe pitching contest in charge of Bill Tway; a baseball game in charge of A. D. Moody; a needle threading contest in charge of Allison Honer and a number of other events will make up the extensive sports program arranged by the committee. A special event will be a tug of war that will be under the direction of R. L. Ross and R. C. McMillan.

Dewey Callahan is the general chairman of the program of events for which special prizes have been donated. Theron Leans is in charge of the prizes. Judges for the contests will be E. Beebe, Charles Carlson and Wesley Pearson.

Following the sports events delegates to the conference from all sections of Southern California will gather at 5 p. m. to discuss problems of vital importance to those connected with the construction industry. Walter Sorenson, president of the Orange county Builders exchange is also president of the conference and will preside during the business session.

A barbecue dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. in cafeteria style, arrangements for the dinner have been made by S. J. Babcock, assisted by members of the Orange county exchange.

Following the dinner two brief addresses are scheduled, one, a reply, "To Hell With Trade Organization During These Times?" to be delivered by Harry W. Bidney, prominent Los Angeles attorney, and the other, "Can Archi-

BREAKFASTERS ENTERTAINED BY VOCALISTS

An all music program offering some of the best talent that has appeared before that organization recently was offered members of the Santa Ana Breakfast club at their regular weekly meeting this morning at Ketter's cafe. Hunter Leach was in charge of the program and, assisted by Floyd Stewart and Miss Allene Lafr, presented three members of the Harrell quartet and James Sewell, well known Santa Ana singer.

The Harrell quartet, S. A. Harrell, his daughters Laverne and Lillian, and Gilbert Harrell, is a Santa Ana organization that has individually and collectively won considerable fame in musical circles. The quartet has just completed a series of phonographic recordings of sacred songs, while the two girls have just closed a San Francisco engagement where they sang in several of the Fox theaters in the bay district. Another member of the Harrell family, Lucille, is still in the north, where she is singing on the Fox circuit. Gilbert Harrell, fourth member of the quartet, was prevented from singing this morning by a business call.

The Misses Harrell offered a duet; Harrell and his daughter Laverne sang and Laverne Harrell offered a solo. Sewell sang two solos and received round applause. Miss Lafr accompanied all numbers at the piano.

HENRY JEFFRIES SERVICES FRIDAY

NEWPORT BEACH, July 23.—Funeral services for Henry B. Jeffries, 73, a resident of the beach section for the past 15 years, will be held from the Grooms Funeral parlors in Costa Mesa Friday at 1:30 p. m., with interment in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Jeffries is survived by his wife, Estella. He passed away on Wednesday.

Arrangements for the dance in the pavilion in the park later in the evening have been made by a committee composed of L. R. Wilson, George Sullivan and Bill Kelly.

WINGS OF MERCY

Aviation joined with medical science in acts of mercy when two men, stricken in far-apart sections of the country, were rushed by plane to Walter Reed hospital in Washington. Though an army ambulance plane, shown at right as it landed at the capital, made a swift flight from Fort Bliss, Tex., with Private Olaf Nelson, operations by capital doctors failed to save the life of the soldier who checked on two gold teeth which he swallowed while eating breakfast. At left you see Captain Guy H. Gale, stricken with a lung infection while at Skowhegan, Me., being removed in a stretcher at Mitchell Field, Long Island, from a plane enroute to Washington, where he was to be given special treatment.

REPORT SHOWS CURRENT USE IS INCREASING

Sales of electric energy by the Southern California Edison company for the first six months of this year showed an increase of more than seven million kilowatt hours over the corresponding period of 1930. It was learned today through Rodney Bacon, of the Santa Ana office. Figures in a report issued yesterday by R. H. Ballard, president, show that there were 1,210,702,650 kilowatt hours sold during the first six months, as compared with 1,202,761,501 kilowatt hours sold the first six months a year ago. This is an increase of 7,941,149 kilowatt hours, or six tenths of one per cent.

"Growth of the company's domestic load, the energy utilized for lighting, cooking and heating, was an outstanding factor in the sales increase of seven million kilowatt hours for this period," the utilities executive said. "Sales to domestic consumers for the six months totaled 216,370,096 kilowatt hours. This was an increase of 13,165,153 kilowatt hours or six per cent over the total of 203,204,943 kilowatt hours sold from January 1 to June 30, 1930. Due to repeated voluntary rate reductions which the company has put into effect, users of electricity in Southern and Central California are now enjoying electrical service at a lower average rate than any other comparable section of the United States.

"Use of electric energy for industrial purposes on lines of the Edison company for the first six months of this year was ten per cent off from the corresponding period of 1930. The electric light and power business of Southern California has been looked upon for many years as a reliable barometer of general business conditions, as its service enters so completely into home and business activities. It is particularly significant, therefore, when our records of industrial power use evidence the fact that Southern California has been within ten per cent, on the average, of its 1930 rate of industrial activity."

SPEEDY AIR MAIL
WASHINGTON. — The average speed of the United States air mail planes last year was 122 miles an hour, compared with 33 miles by train. Mail is now sent by plane at four times the speed of trains at just a little more cost.

TELL PROGRAM FOR CONCERT TONIGHT

The following program will be presented at Birch Park tonight, starting at 7:30, by the Santa Ana Municipal band, according to announcement given out by D. C. Clanton, director of the organization:

1. March, "Newport Harbor" (Clanton);
2. Overture, "William Tell" (Rossini);
3. Selection, "The Huguenots" (Meyerbeer);
4. Vocal (a) "Trusting Eyes" (C. G. Gardner); (b) "Until" (Sanderson);
5. George Stinson, tenor, known as "The Singing Cop";
6. Frances Adams, accompanist;
7. Selection, "Il Trovatore" (Verdi);
8. Selection, "Maytime" (Sigmund Romberg);
9. Waltz "Les Sirenes" (Waldteufel);
10. Descriptive, "At the Race Course" (Pruener).

This program, composed of many popular favorites, has been arranged in honor of "Orange County Night." A special feature will be the appearance of George Stinson, "The Singing Cop," and protégé of Mme. Schumann-Heink.

VETS SELECT KELSEY TO AID IN JOB DRIVE

Past Commander William Kelsey, of Garden Grove, has been appointed by Calumet camp of the Spanish War Veterans to act as the committeeman from that organization to help formulate plans to assist in taking care of the unemployment among veterans of Orange county. This action was taken in response to a letter from Harry Edwards, Orange county veterans welfare officer.

Members of the camp were encouraged over their continued growth when three men were added to the membership rolls. The new members added to the roster of the camp were: Eugene U. Briggs, of Corona Del Mar, and Thomas A. Crane, of Santa Ana. The transfer of A. L. Wensford, from General Hamilton S. Hawkins Camp, was read and he was duly elected.

Reports were made concerning the Citrus Belt U. S. W. V. club picnic, at Irvine park, July 12, and the adjutant was instructed to write letters of thanks to the Santa Ana Ice company and to C. W. Hanna of Hollywood Camp, for their assistance at this affair.

DAUGHTERS OF W. M. BURKE ROBBED IN L. A.

While the two daughters of W. Maxwell Burke, Santa Ana attorney and member of the board of education, covered in their bed in Los Angeles early this morning, a prowler rifled their purses and stole $35 in cash.

The girls, Dorothy Lycan, 23, and Barbara Burke, 18, have an apartment at 1654 Shatto place. Early this morning they were awakened by a noise in their room and in the early dawn saw a shadowy form in front of their dresser. Unable to speak, because of fear, the two girls watched the intruder as he moved about the room.

Suddenly the light was turned on and the unwelcome guest pointed a pistol at the girls and said: "Just pull the covers up over your heads and stay that way for five minutes. If you move I'll kill you."

The girls complied and the burglar, who had entered by a window made his escape. The police were notified.

Dorothy Lycan made her home with her parents in Santa Ana a few years ago. Barbara is a graduate of the Santa Ana High school. Both girls are employed in Los Angeles and have been living together in the apartment where the robbery took place today.

MANY RESORTS APPEALING TO VACATIONISTS

Now that the summer vacation season is in full swing and ideal vacation weather prevailing, almost everyone is planning or thinking about where he can enjoy a most delightful time playing "hooky" from the cares of the business and domestic worries.

Most of us want to go places and do things. Everyone wants to get the most enjoyment out of the dollars and days which we have to spend. The southern California vacationist is extremely fortunate in having a great variety of playgrounds close at home from which to choose.

Practically at our front doors is the famous "rim of the World" country, high up in the San Bernardino mountains, where such resorts as Lake Arrowhead, Big Bear lake, Pinecrest, Green Valley lake, Crestline resorts, Forest Home, Seven Oaks and innumerable other wonderful play places may be quickly and comfortably reached.

Remarkably low daily summer fares are in effect to all the picturesque beach and mountain resorts on the big Motor Transit system, according to A. M. Thomas, Santa Ana agent for the bus company.

As a further aid to those with limited time and means for vacation purposes, the Motor Transit lines have recently put into effect particularly low week-end excursions to all San Bernardino and San Jacinto mountain resorts and also to many south coast beaches.

BARBER CITY

BARBER CITY, July 23.—Mrs. E. James was hostess to the Barber City Women's club at her home, when Mrs. Joseph Thurston of Laguna Beach, past president of the Federated Women's clubs of Orange county, and Mrs. Houghton of Costa Mesa, a former executive chairman of the organization, were present.

A business session was held and final arrangements made for the ice cream social which is being given on the lawn of the club grounds on the evening of July 23. The social is in charge of Mrs. Howard Melvin and is a public affair.

Ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. E. James, the following women being entertained: Mrs. Thurston, Mrs. Houghton, Mrs. Howard Melvin, Mrs. John DuBay, Mrs. Walter Beckman, Mrs. Mary Sennec, Mrs. Homer Hilbourn, Mrs. Matt Cochran, Mrs. V. Spikes, Mrs. Charles Holmgren, Mrs. J. James. The next meeting of the Barber City Women's club which will be held in two weeks, is to be at the home of Mrs. Homer Hilbourn.

A. N. Olson is ill at his home and Mrs. Olson, who has been ill the past week, is convalescing.

BEACH LAND CASE MAY BE REOPENED

Reopening of a long drawn out civil action which was heard in the county courts more than a year ago when title to certain property at Laguna Beach was quieted in favor of Hallam Cooley, motion picture actor and real estate broker, and others looms with the filing yesterday of notice of intention to move for a new trial by Eugene and Vivian Swarzwald, plaintiffs in the first action.

In this new action the plaintiffs are seeking a new trial on the grounds of irregularity of procedure by the court and by the defense and cross complainant during the first trial; abuse of discretion by the court; accidents and surprises which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against; the discovery of new evidence on behalf of the plaintiffs since the first trial; the fact that the court's decision was granted on insufficient evidence and was against the law. Errors of law were also mentioned in the complaint.

HAWAIIAN GROUP IS ENTERTAINED HERE

Young people of the United Presbyterian church of Santa Ana were hosts Tuesday to the Hawaiian delegation to the recent International Christian Endeavor conference held in San Francisco.

Prior to returning to their homes members of the Hawaiian delegation are visiting points of interest in California, and came to Orange county on the invitation of the United Presbyterian church. With the young people of the congregation as their hosts the visitors were taken on a sight-seeing tour of the county Tuesday afternoon and in the evening were honored at a beach party held at Corona Del Mar. After swimming and beach sports, supper was served and later the party gathered about a huge bonfire and, led by the visitors, who played ukuleles, sang a group of Hawaiian songs.

LIBRARY SHOWS INCREASE IN ANNUAL REPORT

The annual report of the operation and circulation of the Santa Ana city library, filed with the city council this week, indicates a steady growth during the past 12 months, particularly in the number of books being taken out and in the number of new volumes added to the library.

The report was filed with the city council by Harry Hanson, secretary of the library board. The circulation for the fiscal year just ending was 343,361 for the entire library system, which shows that more than 1000 books are taken from the library every day, counting the holidays and Sundays, when the library is closed.

The circulation showed a gain of 16,252 volumes over the preceding year. January was evidently the biggest reading month of the year, for during this period 32,810 volumes were borrowed.

Hanson's report also shows that of all the books taken from the library, 67 per cent were fiction. The Santa Ana library has a total of 48,884 volumes on its shelves, more than 4000 in excess of the number on hand at this time last year. The report also reveals there are 4544 pamphlets, bound and unbound; 4502 mounted pictures and 1669 stereographs.

In the children's department, 107,539 books were circulated during the fiscal year, the report shows. That the financial status of the library is sound is indicated by the report that on July 1 there was a cash balance on hand of $13,968.06. This, coupled with the tax money of $30,542.23, together with fine money for the year totaling $1879.30 and $279.40 from other sources, makes a total of $46,768.99 in receipts.

Expenses for the year included $18,978.31 for salaries; $1260, janitor services, and $7407.37 for new books. Jeanette McFadden is librarian.

The earth is belted with more than 800,000 miles of submarine cables, over 100,000,000 miles of telephone wires and 5,000,000 miles of telegraph cables.

Mrs. Coleman

Extending her hospitality to members of an evening bridge club, Mrs. Henry F. Coleman was hostess last night in her home, 1502 North Flower street, at an informal mid-summer party.

Zinnias in their soft brilliant hues predominated among the flowers which enhanced the attractions of the home. The card tables with their pretty covers and bridge talies and score pads in quaint silhouette designs, were pleasing features of the preparations for the card contest. Mrs. Glenn H. Cave scored high among the players, while the hostess herself made second high and Mrs. Cyrus Lurker was low. Pretty gifts had been selected for those making special scores.

A feature of the evening was the appearance of tiny Betty Lou Coleman who today will celebrate her first anniversary of her birth. Since it was the eve of her natal day, she was allowed to meet her young mother's friends and had a happy hour of attention before being tucked in her little bed.

To complete the hospitality, Mrs. Coleman served an appetizing salad course after arranging her tables with fresh linens and flowers. Club members enjoyed having with them Mrs. W. Earl Patterson and Mrs. Ross Strimling, substituting for absent members. Others sharing Mrs. Coleman's hospitality were Mrs. Norbert Lentz, Mrs. Leland Eubank, Mrs. Cyrus H. Lurker, Mrs. Willard McCain and Mrs. Glenn H. Cave.

Pretty Wedding Held
In Midway City

It was in the paragon home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Woodson of Midway City that Raymond McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. McCullough of Santa Ana was united in marriage to Miss Lina Ciarella, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ciarella of Santa Ana Gardens, on Monday, July 20, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Miss Ciarella was a very attractive young bride in her gown of soft orchid crepe de chine with all dress accessories in white, and the charm of the wedding was completed by the many amaryllis lilies and dahlias with which Mrs. Woodson had decked her home in honor of the event.

There were no bridal attendants and the guests were limited to members of the two families, Mr. and Mrs. Ciarella, Miss Madeline Ciarella, Mr. and Mrs. McCullough, and Mrs. Woodson, wife of the pastor.

Mr. McCullough is an orchardist employed on a Tustin ranch, and he and his bride are already occupying a cozy little cottage on the ranch where they are welcoming their friends.

Country Club Women
Plan Mid-summer
Festivity

Such a pleasant break in the mid-summer quiet of Santa Ana Country club house is being planned by a committee of active women of the club membership, headed by Mrs. A. G. Flagg, wife of the president. In planning the party, which will be a garden bridge on Tuesday afternoon, August 11, these women, who are wives of the directors, will accomplish two ends. They will provide an afternoon of delightful social features for the women of the entire community and they will amass a fund for the beautification of the club house interior.

August, which holds such lure for the summer vacationist, with its promise of pine-scented breezes in the mountains, the salt spray of the seashore or fascinating new highways winding over the hills to romance, is a time of quiet at the club house. For, aside from golf, there is no entertainment such as dances, bridge teas and evening parties, save as an occasional hostess plans for a group of personal friends. Naturally this mid-summer festivity offers opportunity for any necessary work on the big club house itself.

There is much of this to be done, floors to be refinished, draperies to be repaired and renewed and a general "house-cleaning" to be put into effect. And that is where the garden party will bring practical results second only to the pleasures of the affair as a social gathering. For funds derived from ticket sales all will go to the re-beautifying process of the club house, which later will appear with the architectural equivalent of a face-lifting, permanent waving and judicious symmetrical exercising process of improvement.

For the party which will make these things possible, the director's wives have planned perhaps the biggest social affair ever yet given amidst the pleasant surroundings of the big place on the mesa. Bridge will be the chief diversion, with tables set with auction and contract. Players may join those groups which will progress from table to table or may form their own small parties to progress or pivot as they wish.

With each club member assuming the responsibility of at least one table, it is believed that the hostess group will be rewarded by being called upon to entertain the largest crowd of feminine guests assembled in the history of the organization. The hostesses therefore are planning really beautiful prizes for each of the three groups, auction (pivoting and progressing) and contract; a friendly welcome with special entertainment features and an inviting refreshment course to conclude the hospitality.

Mrs. Flagg, as chairman, has working with her in all plans for the function, Mrs. Dean Collier, Mrs. James Tucker, Mrs. Laurence Bemis, Mrs. D. W. Young, Mrs. Carl Mox, Mrs. Byron V. Curry, Mrs. Rex Kennedy, Mrs. W. H. Hilliard, Mrs. A. L. Domann and Mrs. Ralph Mosher.

NATIVE DAUGHTER OUTLINES
ACHIEVEMENTS OF PRESIDENT

Much interest has been aroused by the announcement that the Native Daughters of Santa Ana parlor, had planned their annual installation of officers on Monday night, July 27, as an open ceremonial to which all their friends were privileged to come. Activities of the year just coming to a close under the efficient administration of Mrs. Marguerite Dickinson and her capable officers have been summed up by the secretary, Mrs. Matilda Lemon, in a form that will be of interest to readers of The Register, and the article follows:

BY MATILDA LEMON

June 20, 1931, brought to a close quite the most successful time of the six years' existence of Santa Ana Parlor No. 235, Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Handicapped at the very beginning of the term by illness in her family and the passing of her mother, Mrs. E. U. Dickinson, proved herself a leader in the strength with which she overcame obstacles and undertook her work as she assumed her chair as president and leader of her parlor.

On the night of her installation as president she initiated two candidates. This seemed a good omen, for, since the beginning, she has forged ahead with a determination to reach a goal. This she succeeded in doing, very much to her credit and that of her able committee appointed to work with her; also to the gratification of the Parlor.

Among the many objectives for which the order of Native Daughters and Sons work are: To care for our Native Daughters home, to advance state pride and honor, to encourage the development and progress of state and community; to preserve its history, landmarks, relics and traditions; to honor and keep in memory California's pioneers, for which we have Pioneer day; to stimulate patriotism and aid in Americanization where possible.

To encourage higher education for women, evidenced by three scholarships, Mills College, University of California at Berkeley and U. C. L. A. To care, jointly, with the Native Sons, for the homeless children of California, of whatever class, color, or creed, by placing them in suitable, permanent homes—a humanitarian welfare work, improving future citizenship of our state. These children when placed, are watched regularly to see that the homes and foster-parents prove suitable and profitable to the child's future welfare. These are but some of the duties of the order.

With this work in mind, Mrs. Dickinson worked, step by step, fostering these objectives as far as possible and accomplishing wonderful work. Homeless children, Native Daughters' home, landmarks, World War veterans, San Fernando and the veterans' fund and other work done by the order were well taken care of. The membership was increased by 26 and the financial gain for the year $122.22—a record of pride to her Parlor as well as gratifying to herself. Her amiable demeanor to her fellow members, her thoughtfulness for their pleasure and comfort, has endeared her to all, and the Daughters feel that her term of appointment, from Grand Parlor, as district deputy grand president to California Parlor No. 247, Hollywood, will prove as pleasant and successful as has her term of office with her own parlor.

With the installation of new officers on July 27th, the first vice president, Mrs. Marion Crum, ascends to the chair as president, and as she has been an able assistant to her president, members are predicting a pleasant and successful year for her and extending best wishes to her as new president.

Birthday Celebration
In Irvine Park

Because of its restfulness and delightful coolness in the early evening, employees of the Nash-Ward Motor Sales company and their families chose Irvine park as the fitting place in which to honor their employer Carl M. Ward, on his birthday anniversary Tuesday evening.

Under the huge green oak trees in the twilight of the summer evening, the merry group gathered to enjoy the juicy barbecued steaks and their accompanying dishes. At this time a gift of remembrance was tendered Mr. Ward by his co-workers.

Present to honor their employer and Mrs. Ward and their son and daughter, Carl Jr., and daughter Marjorie, were Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Zornes and son Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Garraway, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Crowell and daughter, Ruth Williams, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. L. Austin Mr. and Mrs. Lee Whitaker and daughter Frances, and son Billie, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. William Ruesch and son William.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Arrangements have been completed for the garden party for members of the Danacus White Shrine and their husbands to be held this evening at 6 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Cleveland, 1010 North Broadway.

YOU and your Friends

Mrs. Bert A. French of Sheridan, Wyo., has been visiting with friends in this city, Mr. and Mrs. C. Tesak, 217 South Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Brown, 609 South Main street, formerly of Sheridan. Mrs. French expects to spend a few days with friends in Long Beach and with her brother, Henry Schroeder, in Los Angeles. From there she will go to the northern part of Oregon before returning to her home in Wyoming. She expects to return to California soon for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas, 1215 East Third street, entertained their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Thomas and Mrs. R. A. Knight of Long Beach over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith and daughter, Marilyn Mae, 112 West Chestnut avenue, have returned from a several weeks' trip to Vancouver going up the inland route and returning by the coast. A four days' stop was made in Seattle.

Mrs. Anna Cole of Hollywood was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Post, 1615 West Tenth street.

Mrs. R. S. Whitfield of New Jersey has returned to Santa Ana after a long absence, and expects to remain for an indefinite period. She is now visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Porter, 452 West Eighth street.

Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Plavan and J. F. Courdin, 2685 North Main street, had as recent guests in their home, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Courdin and Ralph Pyle of Butte, Mont. While they were here a number of trips were made to the various nearby resorts and places of interest.

A letter received by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith, of 915 East Washington avenue, from their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen, of Louisville, Ky., stated that their son, Sterling Allen, who was recently knocked down by an automobile, and thrown to the pavement on his head, is improving nicely. The boy's shoulder was badly bruised and cut, one leg was cut, and it was necessary to take nine stitches in his head and one stitch in his hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and family, whose home is in Los Angeles, left last summer to spend a year with Mr. Allen's relatives and they expect to return within a few weeks to their California home. Their daughter, Miss Elina Allen, plans to enter college in Los Angeles in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Minter left yesterday by motor for their home at Sanger following a week's visit with relatives here. Mrs. E. C. Archer, of Dinuba, accompanied them on the trip and while here, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Claude S. Minter and family of West Orange, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Archer of West Washington avenue. L. W. Archer is a brother-in-law of Mrs. E. C. Archer.

Mrs. M. Morton of Eighth street, Tustin, who has been confined to her home with illness, is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Leonard, of 620 North Ross street, and their daughter, Mrs. Edith Minter of Ocean avenue, plan to spend Friday night at the Leonard cabin at Forest Home.

Miss Agness Cummins of Los Angeles, is being entertained in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of Tustin.

Leaving this week for visits with friends in Riverside and Berkeley, Mrs. A. M. Taylor of Boston, Mass., who has made her home in Santa Ana for the past year, plans to join a party on a world tour voyage Mrs. Taylor is anticipated attending in Havana, Cuba, the first presentation of the opera, "Alanya," the work of a young American composer.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Calumpit auxiliary of United Spanish War Veterans held its regular meeting in K. P. hall Tuesday evening. A feature of the evening was the new departmental orders for U. S. W. V. auxiliaries, issued by the new departmental president, Mrs. Mamie J. Viben of San Diego.

An announcement was made for the monthly covered-dish supper which is to be held next Tuesday night in Anaheim park and each member is asked to bring a covered dish. The usual routine business occupied the remainder of the evening.

Mrs. Smith was a special guest from Everett, Wash., where she is the auxiliary president. A very good attendance was reported for the evening.

Afternoon Bridge Club
Shares Evening Party
With Husbands

Once a year members of a three-table afternoon bridge club entertain their husbands at a special party, and the 1931 version of this pleasant custom occurred last night when Mrs. Henry Walker and Mrs. C. R. Barker entertained in the lovely new Walker home at 2443 Riverside drive.

Large baskets of colorful zinnias and dahlias were in evidence about the home, enhancing the charm of its design and furnishings.

Preceding the late buffet supper, bridge was played, resulting in Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker making high score; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Van Meter, second; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crenshaw, third, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barker, fourth. Interesting prizes were presented the winners.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Charles Doty, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin West, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur May, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gerhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bemis, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barker, together with Mr. and Mrs. George Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Riley Huber, special guests of the evening.

Little Sisters Greet
Their Playmates at Birthday Party

An unexpected pleasure was given the small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. Eugene Chast, 922 North Flower street, when, on the celebration Monday afternoon of their birthdays, which come closely together in this month, Rosemarie and Marjory Helen's great-grandfather, Horace Chandler Kellogg, dropped in on them unexpectedly. Mr. Kellogg, who was motoring through this city from a visit with his daughter in Strathmore, en route to his Imperial valley ranch home, was pleasantly surprised to find the small guests and proceeded to present each child with a gift and a box of chocolate kisses from "great-grandpa."

Pink blossoms graced the home and pink orangeade was a cooling refreshment for the children while they played. Favors were small pink bonbons which contained gay little caps worn by the children as they ate their ice cream in a merry group on the lawn while several pictures were taken.

The climax of the party came when the lovely gifts were opened by the sisters and all joined in blowing out the candles on each cake. Marjory's cake was pink with two twinkling green candles, while Rosemarie had a rose-colored angel food cake with seven candles.

It will be remembered by friends that five short years ago little Miss Rosemarie was the girl baby who carried off the honors for Orange county as being the most perfect child among 18,000 babies in a contest conducted by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Sharing in the merry party were Horace Chandler Kellogg, the grandmothers of the two little girls, Mrs. S. L. Aubin and Mrs. Guy Gary; Mrs. J. A. Maunham and children, Lois Ann, Charlotte and Bud; Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg, Jr., and children, Jean, Marilyn and H. Clay 3rd; Mrs. Frank Kellogg and children, Frank, Jr., and Billy; Mrs. Ira and son, Jimmy; Mrs. Merle Husson and children, Buddy and Mary Yvonne; Mrs. Bernice Hayes and children, Mac, Norene and Billy; Mrs. Jack Merrill and children, Jimmy and Jackie, and a group of neighborhood playmates, Helen, Mildred and Dorothy Sinsley, Virginia and Buddy Watkins, Marguerite Rachael, and the honorees and the hostesses, Mrs. Chast.

Bridge Party Proves
Surprise Shower
For Guest

Little did Mrs. R. P. Measler dream when she was bidden to attend a dessert bridge party yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. L. McBay on Prospect avenue, Tustin, that it was to be a shower in her honor. But when she found on her table at the refreshment hour a lovely cake with her name written on it and presented by Mrs. Thomas Tournat, surrounded by a number of interesting gifts, she was very pleasantly surprised.

For the afternoon Mrs. McBay had arranged her home in pink and white cosmos and zinnias in pink bowls. Dainty little booties were used as nut cups for the dessert course.

After the bridge games Mrs. Noble Watson received a pillow for high score, Mrs. Alyce King of Orange, for the next highest score was given a luncheon set and for low Mrs. Orville Northrup was presented a bath towel.

Present were Mrs. Noble Watson, Mrs. Alyce King, Mrs. Ed. Ward, Mrs. Miss Cleo Allen, Mrs. Dorcas Alexander, Mrs. Orville Northrup and the honoree, Mrs. Measler and the hostess, Mrs. McBay.

Guest from Texas Has Park Party Given
In Her Honor

Planned as a compliment to Mrs. Joseph Thompson of Waco, Tex., who is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nisson of Red Hill avenue, Tustin, was a most enjoyable park party given by Mrs. Fred Newcomb, Jr., and Mrs. Orlyn Robertson yesterday afternoon amidst the pleasant surroundings of Anaheim City park.

One of the tables on the popular picnic grounds had been reserved and spread with glossy linen with a great cluster of zinnias in rust and rose hues, was inviting indeed to the group gathered for the appetizing luncheon planned by the co-hostesses. The rose tones of the zinnias were given special emphasis by that color used in table appointments and menu so far as possible.

The early part of the afternoon was devoted to strolling through the grounds where the lily pools were especially admired with their tones of rich blooms in varying tones of rose, blue and ivory. Reassembling in one of the rustic summer houses, the picnicers spent the remainder of the afternoon at bridge. Mrs. L. Allen Wallace scored high and received the pretty lemonade set selected by the hostesses, while to Mrs. Thompson was presented the guest prize of a box of fine handkerchiefs.

In complimenting the vivacious young Texas matron, Mrs. Newcomb and Mrs. Robertson called together the members of their desert bridge club and a few additional friends, including among their guests Mrs. Clarence Nisson, Mrs. Fred Crowell, Mrs. Don O. Rice, Mrs. Maurice Enderle, Mrs. Horace J. Howard, Mrs. L. Allen Wallace, Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mrs. Tarver Montgomery and Mrs. Robert Mize.

Trio of Hostesses
Plan Surprise
Gift Shower

Surprised indeed was Mrs. Arnold Flister when a number of intimate friends gathered yesterday evening at 214 Wakeham street, upon the invitation of the three hostesses, Miss Louise Maize, Miss Bertha Williams and Mrs. Paul Hall, to shower a number of lovely gifts upon her.

A delicate pink color scheme prevailed throughout the evening in the pink asters and the baby breath, the tallies and supper favors. Following the bridge game a pink linen luncheon set was presented Mrs. Harry Jensen for high score and to Mrs. Jim Coulson for low score was given a linen guest towel in the prevailing color of the evening.

A delicious two-course supper was served by the hostesses on the card tables covered with pink linen cloths and afterwards a pink bassinet was wheeled in laden with charming gifts for the honoree. The bassinet was a gift of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Mueller, and it contained among its packages a lovely quilted silk negligee from Mrs. Flister's mother-in-law.

Sharing in the surprise were Mesdames C. J. Watters, W. A. Munt, James Coulson, Edward Mueller, Omar Lambert, Jack Garmont of Orange, Basil Underwood, Clare Hall, Erol Hunt, Harry Jensen, Carl Klatt, Miss Clara Beckman, Orange; Miss Pearl Oberlin, Miss Marietta Limbaugh and the hostesses, the Misses Masin and Williams and Mrs. Hall and the honoree, Mrs. Flister.

She Couldn't EAT or SLEEP

"I feel like a new Woman"

"ABOUT six months ago I was run-down and a friend of mine told me about your medicine. 'I got a bottle and started taking it. I was so weak and nervous, my appetite wasn't good at all, I couldn't eat and of course I lost my strength. In fact I have never been healthy."

"After I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my nerves were lots better. I can sleep well and I have a real good appetite. I feel like a new woman."

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The Travel Man explained how rice, when under water, came up nice. The Tinsies watched the plowing from a dry spot right nearby. Then Clowzy said, "That ox is tame and, if you'll let me, I'll be game to ride his back while he is plowing. Tell me, can I try?"

"We'll see," replied the Travel Man. "I will arrange it, if I can." And then he asked the man who owned the ox. The man said "Yes!" The animal was driven near and Clowzy, with no thought of fear, hopped on his back and, as he rode, he cried, "I'm good, I guess!"

The others also tried their luck while plodding through a real soft spot. Poor Coppy, who was on its back, said, "Gee, I guess he's off his track." But soon the ox was quite all right and on much safer ground.

When everyone had had a ride the Travel Man explained, "I've tried to think of something else to see and now I have a plan. Pine-apples grow not far from here and this is just the time of year when they are nice and ripe. Come on, we'll find some, if we can."

They reached a big plantation and one Tiny shouted, "This is grand! Just look how neat the rows are made and, my, the fruit is big. I think it would be very nice if we could each have one big slice. In fact, I'd be so tickled I would almost dance a jig."

And then they spied a Japanese out in the garden, on his knees. The Travel Man explained that Japs worked on most of the farms. And then he called the Jap and said, "This little fellow must be fed." The Jap jumped up and brought a big pineapple in his arms.

LOSE SWAB IN MCCASLIN WELL IN H. B. FIELD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 23.—The swabbing crew at the McCaslin well lost the swab in the well yesterday. This mishap put an end to the efforts to bring the well in. The crew started pulling the tubing, a 20-hour job, and when the tubing was pulled, the swab removed and tubing inserted in the well again, or within the 20 hours required for the work, the crew will resume swabbing.

The swab is a long rod with washers which fits down in the tubing of the well and then pulled out, bringing a load of fluid. In this way the weight of the fluid is lifted off the oil sand at bottom of the well, giving the oil and gas a chance to escape or flow through the tubing into the tanks, sump or wherever the operator wants it.

When the swab is let down too low, it gathers too heavy a load and the wire cable by which it is pulled up and down in the well tubing breaks. The swab then lodges in the tubing and the tubing is pulled. In the case of the McCaslin well the "Christmas tree" control head on the well, a heavy piece of machinery, had to be taken down or moved to pull the tubing. This makes the 20 hours of work in pulling and reinserting the tubing.

CAPISTRANO CLUB STAGES PROGRAM

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 23.—The monthly luncheon meeting of the Capistrano Woman's club was held yesterday afternoon in the social rooms of the Community church with Mesdames J. Roy Smith, Norman Bottger, Dave Ross and Roy Tyler as co-hostesses.

A patriotic program was given after the luncheon. In keeping with the other arrangements, the luncheon tables were decorated with red, white and blue, and tiny flags adorned mounds of angel food cake.

An interesting program was given. Miss Pauline Tyler, at the piano, played several classical selections, which were followed by club singing of "America." John Malcom, principal of the high school, gave an interesting and instructive discussion of the events which led to the American revolution, and Mrs. Charles Crumrine, who recently returned from an eastern trip, told of her visit to Independence hall and other shrines of American history.

Life Saving And Swimming Classes Start Next Week

LAGUNA BEACH, July 23.—Swimming and life saving classes under Red Cross auspices will begin July 23 at 10 o'clock, the third of the season. Beginners in swimming will be instructed by Miss Harriet Shattuck at 10 o'clock, swimmers by Miss Louella Marshall at the same hour. The junior life saving classes start at this time, with senior classes at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Dana Lamb, instructor. No charges are made and those interested need only sign at the guard tower on the central beach before July 28.

A party is planned for the evening of July 28, to be given by the Life Saving corps, under the trees at the Women's club. Harriet Shattuck and Dana Lamb, first aid and life saving instructor, who is to be in Laguna on that day, will be asked to be present. Besides a good time, an informative program is planned, an opportunity given parents and interested persons to see what the beach work program comprises.

FINGERPRINTS' VALUE IN WAR ON CRIME TOLD

FULLERTON, July 23.—"If a record of every person's fingerprints was made compulsory, a lot of our crime problems in this country would be solved," Harry O. Varton, Anaheim attorney and fingerprint expert, told members of the Fullerton 20-30 club last night in McFarland's cafe in a talk on "Fingerprints."

Warton said that fingerprints were first heard of in the writings of a Chinese author in the 16th century. The use of fingerprints was later adopted by an English governor in India as a means of identification. In 1891 the fingerprints were classified into 104 types.

"Practice shows that no two sets are alike in the world and that fingerprints are conclusive evidence," the speaker declared. "Fingerprinting serves as means of identification for persons who have lost their minds or persons found dead and who cannot be identified in any other way. A few nations require fingerprinting of everyone, and these countries have found the method exceptionally successful in checking many crime situations."

Sam Adams was program chairman and introduced the speaker. He also presented Miss Dorothy Fox of Anaheim, who played several numbers on the piano, and followed with two vocal solos, playing her own accompaniment.

A baseball game between the Fullerton team and Orange club members tonight on the Fullerton field was announced.

A week from tonight the club will hold a wicker bake and moonlight swimming party at the beach.

Alvin Blackford will have the program in charge next week.

SANTA FE STOPS

SAN CLEMENTE, July 23.—Superintendent Tuttle of the Santa Fe has arranged to stop train No. 73, on flag, at San Juan Capistrano, Sundays only, effective July 19, until September 13, inclusive. Arrangements have also been made to stop train No. 71 on flag daily at the Mission city. These two trains now stop and will continue to stop at San Clemente.

WATER FACTS PRESENTED AT CLUB SESSION

FULLERTON, July 23.—Plans and problems in connection with the construction of the Metropolitan Water district aqueduct from the Colorado river to Southern California provided the subject for an address by Walter Humphreys, Fullerton member of the board of directors of the district, at the noon meeting of the Fullerton Rotary club yesterday in McFarland's cafe.

Humphreys is closely associated with the project, having made a study of the entire route and having inspected much of the land over which the aqueduct will be built. Nine possible routes were explained by the speaker, who pointed out why the Parker route was finally selected as the most feasible and most approved by directors.

This route provides for a diversion of the conduit near San Bernardino, one line emptying into a storage reservoir northeast of Fullerton, from which laterals will serve Fullerton, Anaheim, Santa Ana, Long Beach and south Los Angeles. The other line will continue along the foothills to the north to service cities in that section and the main part of Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, Santa Monica and others in that district.

Cost of the entire project is estimated at $230,000,000, with approximately $230,000,000 set for the initial bond issue to serve the district for many years to come. Cost of operation is estimated to be two or three million dollars annually, depending on the size of the aqueduct and demand for water and amount of pumping required. Sale of the water is expected to cover the cost of maintenance and assist in paying off the cost over a period of years.

Fullerton's share in the cost would be approximately $1,000,000, cost of which has been figured at less than is now paid for domestic water and with a greater quantity available.

ARRANGE FUNERAL OF MRS. WASHBURN

ANAHEIM, July 23.—Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret L. Washburn, 83, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William M. Wellman, Phoenicia avenue, where she had resided for the past two and a half years, will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. from the Backs, Terry & Campbell funeral home. She had been ill for many years and passed away Tuesday afternoon. Three years ago she had suffered a stroke at her home in Chateaufort, Mich., and Mrs. Wellman went to that city to bring her home with her.

Besides her daughter, she is survived by two sons, H. Ralph Washburn of Chateaufort and Roy A. Washburn of Mason City, Ia.; three sisters, Mrs. Helen M. Richards of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Carrie H. Ross of Seattle, and Mrs. Marion Kelly of Aberdeen, S. D.; two brothers, James M. Smith of Oakland, and H. Smith of Pasco, Wash., and two grandchildren, the Rev. C. R. Wellman, Methodist missionary in Porto Rico, and Mrs. Dale Quatman, the wife of a United States navy officer and former resident of Anaheim, who is now stationed in the Philippine Islands.

The Rev. Bernard Voll will officiate at the services in the absence of the Rev. Ralph W. Lee, who is on his vacation.

Mrs. and Mrs. Bill Schryver and Ed Curtis of the West Coast leave visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Viera and family in Burbank Thursday evening.

Mrs. Herman Carline spent Wednesday in Santa Ana.

Mrs. E. Scribner and children spent Thursday in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson and family were at Newport Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Leusch are in Riverside for the week-end.

Audie Mathis spent Thursday in Pomona.

Mrs. B. E. Ryan and son, Edward, went to Los Angeles to see Mr. Ryan. No change is noted in his condition.

Mrs. A. I. Brown returned home Friday morning after a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Nellie Maddox, in Beaumont.

Mrs. Clarence Perrin's birthday was celebrated by a wicker roast on Newport Beach Thursday evening with a group of friends.

William Schubert, Gilbert Armstrong and Charles Campbell went deep-sea fishing at Newport Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Muzali returned home Friday after three days spent in Catalina.

Wilma Mathis, Nina Bush, Rhonda Rodgers of Brea and Harold Curry of La Habra attended a show in Santa Ana Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Trawick and Bill Cowan of Yorba Linda were Wednesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Schyver.

H. S. Henderson and son, Sammy, with F. M. Breshers of Whittier, spent two days at Yucaipa.

Mabel Henderson, Marguerite Martin, Jerry Gower and Percy Armstrong spent Wednesday evening at Huntington Beach.

Injured Driver Arrested After Machines Collide

SAN CLEMENTE, July 23.—F. W. Schwager, 2959 Live Oak street, Huntington Park, is in the San Clemente clinic and hospital under the care of Dr. Garnet B. Grant suffering from a broken arm, cuts and bruises. On Thursday night, Schwager, according to Capt. Harry Comber, ran into a car driven by William M. Edmond, 2100 National boulevard, Palms, Calif. The accident occurred a few miles south of San Clemente. Schwager was injured and both cars wrecked.

Captain Comber says he has arrested Schwager on a drunken driving charge and will hold him for investigation by state traffic officers of San Diego county.

BEACH TITLE SUIT STARTED IN SAN DIEGO

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 23.—City officials, including Mayor Elson G. Conrad, Councilman Chris H. King, Councilman J. E. Hunsinger, City Clerk C. R. Furr and City Attorney L. W. Blodgett are in San Diego on the suit of the city against the Huntington Beach company, for title to the beach company, for title to the beach company, for title to the beach company.

Cost of the entire project is estimated at $230,000,000, with approximately $230,000,000 set for the initial bond issue to serve the district for many years to come. Cost of operation is estimated to be two or three million dollars annually, depending on the size of the aqueduct and demand for water and amount of pumping required.

The value of the beach property involved is regarded as approaching a million dollars. It is expected the suit will continue over a week or 10 days and possibly longer. It is being heard in the superior court of San Diego county, where it was transferred from Orange county on a change of venue.

Roy F. Patrick, resident manager of the Huntington Beach company, and J. M. Barlow, manager of the Huntington Beach company, are also attending the hearing as witnesses for the company. The contention of the company is that while it has been always allowed free use of the beach by the public, it has maintained its title for many years and that the city has recognized this title at all times and in many ways.

After the conclusion of the funeral services the remains were sent to El Reno, where interment will be made in the family plot.

Mrs. A. H. Foster and children and Miss Myrtle Brier came up from Brawley the latter part of the week and have rented the B. E. West house on South Grand avenue. Mrs. Foster returned to Brawley Monday and Miss Butler and the Foster children will reside here for the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Black and son, Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Coughran and children, who went to the High Sierras near Bishop last week for a camping trip, have returned home as the heavy rains there in the past few days did not make camping pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Upton and son, who have been staying in El Monte with Mr. Upton's parents since school was closed, were in Buena Park Monday arranging for a house for the school term. They will leave this week for a motor trip to Seattle, where they will visit Mrs. Upton's parents and plan to return here the latter part of August.

A new constitution and by-laws for the Buena Park Men's brotherhood, organized at a meeting in the Congregational church this month, were prepared at a meeting of the committee in the church Tuesday evening. The committee is composed of Frederick Davis, chairman; Walter McKenzie, Rev. W. I. Newman and J. E. Hall and J. F. Wagg, president of the new organization.

Gustave Schneider, of Riverside, state secretary of Federated Brotherhoods, has been announced as the speaker for the August 30 meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kilgore, associate matron and patron of the Buena Park Eastern Star chapter, were in charge of the meeting in the Masonic temple Monday evening as Mr. and Mrs. William Malott, worthy matron and patron, and their sons are on a vacation trip to Virginia lake.

Mrs. G. P. Battelle spent the week-end visiting her mother, Mrs. J. I. Irwin, and sister, Mrs. F. R. Wilson, in Los Angeles.

MOTOR COPS TO HOLD OUTING AT SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, July 23.—More than 150 members of the California Municipal and County Motorcycle Officers' association will be the guests of Hamilton H. Cotton at his San Clemente beach front estate Sunday. The party, a stag affair, will be featured by a barbecue at the Cotton pits. The Beverly Hills billies are scheduled to furnish entertainment. Many will go swimming, using the La Brea estate bathhouse. Others plan on golf and fishing parties.

Captain Lofthouse, president; John O'Connor, business agent; Lieutenant Parant, secretary, and Sergeant Lyons, vice president, will arrive in San Clemente Saturday night to assist Cotton in arranging details for the party. Ole Hanson, member of the organization, will be unable to attend the barbecue due to injuries received when hit by an auto a week ago. Mayor Thomas F. Murphy is scheduled to make the welcoming address. Capt. Harry Comber, member of the organization, and Roy Strang, police commissioner of San Clemente, will be guests at the party also.

HOLD FUNERAL OF CHARLES PETERSON

ANAHEIM, July 23.—Funeral services for Charles Peterson, 65, who passed away Tuesday afternoon at the family home on South Bush street after an illness of several months, were held at 9 o'clock this morning from the chapel of the Hillenfeld Funeral home with the Rev. Thomas H. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

Peterson was a native of Denmark who came to America 47 years ago and who had been a resident of California for seven years and of Anaheim for the past four and a half years. He was a member of the Danish Lutheran church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Katherine Peterson; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Schuldt, of El Reno, Okla., and Mrs. L. L. Burton, of Chickasha, Okla.; three sons, Clarence T. Peterson and Verne Peterson, of El Reno, and Carlton Peterson, of Berkeley, Ill., and Chris Peterson, of Chicago, and eight grandchildren.

After the conclusion of the funeral services the remains were sent to El Reno, where interment will be made in the family plot.

Mrs. A. H. Foster and children and Miss Myrtle Brier came up from Brawley the latter part of the week and have rented the B. E. West house on South Grand avenue. Mrs. Foster returned to Brawley Monday and Miss Butler and the Foster children will reside here for the next few weeks.

SERVICE CLUB TOLD HISTORY OF BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, July 23.—How the bank at Newport Beach was robbed twice during the old horse-and-buggy days, and the robbers all got away both times, was told by H. L. Sherman at a meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club yesterday at the yacht club.

Sherman was asked to speak on some phases of the history of Newport Beach he is now engaged in writing as part of the general celebration being planned here in September to mark the 25th anniversary of the incorporation of this city.

The first time the bank was robbed, the robbers, took, among other things, a watch owned by Lew H. Wallace, then and now owner of the bank, which had been handed down to him by his grandfather. Later Wallace got back his watch through a pawnshop in Los Angeles. Then he installed a stronger vault in the bank and the next robber gang had to use explosives so heavy that the vault and nearly everything in it, including the watch, was blown into kingdom come.

Sherman also referred to the old McFadden railroad, which connected Santa Ana and Newport Beach, and told of the financial coup by which the line came under the control of the Southern Pacific, against the will of both the McFaddens and the Santa Fe railway. The railway at one time ran out on the Newport wharf and a considerable commercial freight business was carried on.

The history is expected to be in the printer's hands soon. It will be sponsored by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, of which Sherman is a director.

Otto G. Wilkey and Murry Brophy of the Otto G. Wilkey company, developers of El Bazo Balboa tract on the bay front, told of their success there and, among other developments, predicted that within the next month several fine new homes would be started on the property.

VISITOR SUCCUMBS
SAN CLEMENTE, July 23.—The body of Bierre Pegot, 75, father of Julius Pegot, one of the owners of the Aquarium cafe at San Clemente, was sent to New Orleans for interment last night on the Santa Fe. Pegot died early Tuesday morning. He had been visiting his son here. A son in New Orleans will have charge of funeral arrangements in that city.

BUENA PARK, July 23.—George Holden, city attorney of Anaheim, was the speaker at the Buena Park Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday evening, with a discussion on the World court. Holden stated that he was not in favor of the World court as the present Hague court was accomplishing that which a World court would set out to do.

A recent trip through the High Sierras was outlined by Arni Nelson, who spent some time in the mountains studying the water situation. The Rev. W. L. Newman was accepted as a new member.

Following the Kiwanis meeting, the men moved the furniture in the Women's clubhouse to the domestic science room at the Grand Avenue school, where the Kiwanis meetings will be held for the next few weeks. Kiwanis members will direct the tearing down of the old building of the Women's club, preparing for the construction of the new clubhouse which is expected to be completed early in October.

PROF. MCINTOSH CASE REVIEWED

Attorneys for Professor Douglas C. McIntosh of Yale university are asking for a re-hearing before the United States supreme court on the question of granting Dr. McIntosh his citizenship papers.

It will be recalled that Dr. McIntosh declared that in case of a war, which in his judgment was contrary to the will of God, he could not bear arms. He was denied citizenship. The case was appealed to the United States Supreme Court. The majority upheld the lower court, four judges, however, disagreeing, including Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes.

This decision has been a tremendous challenge to a great number of people, and its implications are so serious that it has become of far greater importance than anything can possibly be that only attaches to a single personality. The claim for the re-hearing is not only that of the rights of Dr. McIntosh as a single individual, but it involves all aliens who are applying for citizenship. As Justice Hughes points out, it also involves those who are taking the oath of public office, which is practically the same oath as that required by naturalized citizens.

Just a few days ago, the absurdity of the law was made manifest when a man, first declaring that he would have his conscience dictate as to whether he would engage in war, finding that he was up against the decisions of the court, reversed himself, and said that he would let Congress or someone else decide for him, and he would go to war regardless of his conscience. But then the court doubted his sincerity, and refused to grant his papers, postponing them at least a year. He is appealing the case.

The present United States Supreme Court ruling in the McIntosh case absolutely bars Quakers from citizenship, unless the Quaker, as is pointed out, announces the abandonment of the most distinct part of his faith. The Quakers have been, through the years, an important part of the "body politic."

They have been prominent in every crisis, and have contributed their share to our official life. Now, as is pointed out, no sincere Quaker or Mennonite may take either the naturalization oath or the oath of office without either mental reservations or deliberately sacrificing all his religious scruples.

Those who opposed the granting of citizenship papers to McIntosh insisted that he was asking for a special bargain to be made with him. But as this petition points out, this is so far from being true, that what they are demanding of the applicant, is that he shall make in advance concessions in regard to the abdication of his conscience that are required of no native born citizen.

We have a great deal of respect for our American institutions, but they have not reached that degree of perfection that we are willing to accept the act of Congress as the will of God. We would emphasize that America, with other nations agreed in the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact: "The High Contracting Parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another."

We are indulging the hope that when our country signed this pact with others, it was as sincere and honest as it expects men to be who are applying for citizenship in the United States.

THE LOWER COST OF LIVING

A large department store in the East has issued a bulletin containing the retail prices of goods in 1929 and 1931. Over two hundred items are noted, including silks, underwear, men and women's clothing, household goods of all descriptions, etc. The prices of identical goods as they sold for in the boom year and in the present depression era are rather startling. The figures are absolutely accurate, taken from the price schedules in the store at the two periods for which comparison is made.

A few items will give an idea of the difference in prices. Leather bags have come down from $5.00 to $2.95; silk hosiery from $1.95 to $1.50; chiffon scarfs from $2.95 to $1; Panama hats from $7.50 to $5; cotton print dresses from $1.95 to $1; lawn mowers from $10.50 to $6.95; men's two trouser suits $37.50 to $28.50; three-piece bed room suits from $198.50 to $98.50; 72x84 plaid blankets from $4.95 to $2.98; and so the list goes on. A few typical examples from regular stock reveals that silks have gone down 59 per cent, hosiery 25 per cent, coats 36 per cent; dresses 33 per cent, shoes, 20 per cent, hats 33 per cent, lingerie 34 per cent, men's clothing, 24 per cent, men's furnishings 35 per cent, linens and domestics 32 per cent, furniture, 47 per cent and draperies, 44 per cent. There has been a general decrease of 45 per cent in basement store merchandise.

We have known that wholesale prices have been tumbling, but our statisticians have been telling us that retail prices are lagging behind. This survey indicates that retail prices, even though they lag behind wholesale prices, show bargains as compared with 1929. Every housewife knows of the drop in food prices. They probably have not been so conscious of the drop in the prices of general merchandise. All this reveals losses to the manufacturer who bought raw material at high prices, or who was overstocked. The deflation in prices has behind it tragedies and business failures which we can scarcely imagine. It is the price business men have to pay for abnormal prosperity and for planlessness in production.

There is nothing so necessary for business as a stable price level. Such rises in prices as followed immediately after the war and during the boom period in 1929 are dangerous to the business structure. A business structure so reared is bound to come tumbling down as the present deflation in prices tragically reveals. In the meantime, those who have held on to jobs and have a reasonable income are the beneficiaries of this planless commercial system.

CURES FOR STAMMERING

There is nothing so awkward for a person as the stuttering habit. Otherwise bright and alert men and women are made to appear stupid by a habit which we are now told can be easily overcome. Dr. Smiley Blanton, in the Mental Hygiene Journal, discusses the whole malady which has been so great an embarrassment to countless numbers of people. Dr. Blanton found that a certain college student never stuttered in his father's store or with his companions, but always when reciting in his college classes. A girl of 16 stuttered only in the class of an unpleasant teacher. A business man stuttered only over the telephone. We know that many stutters never have the impediment when they sing or when they whisper.

Dr. Blanton suggests that the method of dealing with the stutterer has been altogether wrong. Better to tell the victim of this malady to stutter all he can than to tell him to speak more slowly. Never ask him to repeat a sentence which has caused him to stutter. Tell him to whisper or sing. Dr. Blanton feels that consciousness of the malady is largely responsible for the habit, and that every stutterer can be cured.

This will come as good news to many who have been afflicted in this manner. A habit is hard to break, but it can be broken. When it was thought generally that stuttering was caused by some physical affection of the throat or the vocal chords, the victims bore with it as one of those unfortunate visitations which they have had to endure for their natural lives. This is no longer necessary.

"Hello There, Illinois!"

Christian Science Monitor—That kiosk of blinking signal lights set in the center of city traffic to guide the comings and goings of touring automobiles is becoming in these days a rendezvous where license plates of the same state may whiz by one another in proud and joyful recognition.

Here is a busy street corner crowded with trucks, cars and pedestrians. In an instant a green light melts into amber, and then into red. A double line of cars from one direction comes to a stop. Two automobiles bearing telltale license plates—each of bright emerald, denoting the same state—touch hubs at the street intersection. Driver meets the eye of driver.

"Hello, there, Illinois!" gaily exclaims the first man. "Where're you bound for?"

"Atlantic City," answers the second motorist, neighborlike. "Been out a week camping along the way. How's the lake breeze back in Chicago?"

A few more interchanges of friendly talk, and the signal light changes to "Go", and the caravan moves swiftly forward, bound for various destinations miles and miles apart.

The speeding automobile is a magic shuttle which is weaving together a bright new fabric of neighborliness made up of old loyalties and mutual enjoyments, and rich in the pageantry of the open road and the adventure of the unfamiliar and the remote. Narrow provincialism and foolish hostilities cannot withstand the impacts of observant travel.

They tour from Memphis, Atlanta, Savannah, Tallahassee and Texarkana. They tour from St. Louis, Columbus, Manistee. They tour from Peoria, Davenport, Kanawha. Cars from Concord, Niagara, Boston. Cars from Topeka, Emporia and Austin. Cars from Chicago, Hannibal, Cairo. Cars from Alton, Oswego, Toledo. Cars from Buffalo, Kokomo, Delphi.

While I sit by the milestone And watch the sky, The United States Goes by!

Thus sings the poet Vachel Lindsay in his "Santa Fe Trail." Thus he envisages the picture of many automobiles as they passed westward, and sees in that motley procession a vision of the new America, without geographical divisions and petty racial differences.

Horses May Be Coming Back to the Farm

Riverside Enterprise—Every now and then someone astonishes us with the news that horses are holding their own amazingly well despite the tremendous growth in use of motor cars. It is usually explained by the revival of horseback riding. That isn't the whole story.

The president of an American concern making saddlery and hardware told a newspaper reporter the other day that his organization had noticed a substantial increase in business recently along this particular line. He says many western farmers are going back to use of 16-horse teams on their farms. Since his company makes none of the equipment for riding horses, but only that used for farm horses, he sees no other explanation for his increased business.

Perhaps it is a temporary development. Farmers may regard the horses as cheaper than the gasoline motor, or they may have just grown weary of the impersonal machine and turned again to the friendly horse. It is hard to believe that the gas engine will go out to make room for the horse.

HUMAN NATURE

"Every great war lays the seeds of another war."—Frederic R. Coudert.

When Tommy hits Willie and blackens his eye
Willie doesn't complain or repine,
And if, on the street, the two urchins pass by
Of resentment he gives not a sign.
But deep in his bosom a grudge is concealed,
Which with rancor is constantly fed,
And his friends are all sure that some day he will wield
A club upon Tommy's red head.

When a man in Big Business puts over a deal
That catches another man short,
The latter no longer will seemingly feel
But will weather the blow like a sport.
But inside of a week, or a month, or a year
He launches a counter-attack,
And is able to say, with a sinister sneer:
"Well, I know the right way to come back."

When a girl takes another girl's steady away
The loser observes with a smile;
"She's as welcome to him as the flowers in May,
He wasn't the least bit my style."
In public she doesn't display one small tear
But she privately starts on a war,
And it's safe to assume that inside of a year
She will have back her sweetie once more.

When the losers in warfare are quiet and cool,
When they tell us that all of us should
In private life practice the old golden rule
And return every evil with good,
When their statesmen declare they'll forgive and forget
Because hate and resentment are wrong,
You can make up your mind it's a pretty safe bet
And there'll be a new war before long.

MORE PROFITABLE

It seems that some New York judges who were elected to dispense justice were dispensing with justice.

How Would You Like It?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Ten years ago, we were crossing the long, hot dusty stretches of sagebrush Idaho by train. The train was luxurious beyond the dreams of pioneers. Even the most imaginative of them never conceived of such comfort for their grandchildren.

Nevertheless, the lady traveler from New York City was in a fuss and fury of complaint. She couldn't stand the dust. She couldn't stand the heat. She wanted the windows up; then she wanted the windows down. The dining car service was terrible. The train was intolerably slow!

Finally, the placid old lady in the opposite seat could stand the complaining no longer. Turning to the lady from New York, she said, "How would you like to WALK all the way from Chicago to Portland? I DID."

The placid old lady, in her girlhood, had followed a covered wagon over the Oregon Trail. Under the hot sun, she had trudged through the dust of the desert, day after day, with blistered feet, and with the ever-present fear of Indians. She had known hardship.

Most of us never have. That is why a decline from boom days, to a standard of living immeasurably above that of our grandfathers, finds us fretful, weak-kneed, and hopeless.

Fully aware of all this, many of the descendants of Utah pioneers have prepared themselves to celebrate Pioneers' Day, which comes tomorrow, by "enduring hardship as good soldiers of Jesus Christ." They have followed on foot the very trails of their forefathers. They have suffered, as far as they could reproduce pioneer conditions, exactly what the pioneers suffered. Men, women and children have dragged their way over rocky mountains and barren deserts, until they have fallen in their tracks from sheer exhaustion.

They have just been selling us the story. There is a new light in their eyes and a tremor in their voices. They know why the old lady on the train was serene, resourceful, unafraid. They know what she meant when she said, "How would you like to WALK all the way from Chicago to Portland? I DID."

CANARIES

Most canaries are yellow
And most of them are called Peet,
And all they haff to do is just look
dum
And some lady will say "How sweet!"

They each have a thing full of water
To occasionally take a drink of,
O other birds may lay lots of eggs,
But that's one thing canaries don't think of.

3.
A canary is the most intrinsing
When he brakes his silents to sing,
But nobody thinks he's wonderful
When they find berdesed on everything.

To look at a canary
Sitting there looking so neat,
You would never think his ambition
Was to have a warm worm to eat.

5.
Their actions may be diffrent,
But their expression are all the same,
So trying to guess what theyre thinking of
Will never be a populer game.

In the Long Ago

PRISONERS OF THE MAJORITY

Stalin, boss extraordinary of the Russian millions, shortly after the death of Lenin, said this significant thing about him:

"The leaders of a party cannot fail to hold precious the opinion of the majority of their party. The majority is a force which a leader cannot disregard. Lenin understood that as much as any other party leader. But Lenin never became a prisoner of the majority, especially when that majority lacked a foundation of principles. There were moments in the history of our party when the opinion of the majority or the trenchant interests of the party came into conflict with the basic interests of the proletariat. On such occasions, Lenin, without hesitating would resolutely take the side of principle against the majority of the party. Moreover, he did not fear at such moments, to take issue, literally all alone, against everybody . . ."

Quite apart from its reference to Lenin, this paragraph has a significant thing to say to us as we scan the field leadership to guide us out of our current economic tangles.

We are where we are because we have suffered from a leadership—economic and political—that did not take fully enough into account the status of the millions.

Daily this is being driven home by the logic of events.

Not theoretical radicalism, not bombastic soap box oratory about justice, but the rise and fall of the profits curve burn in upon business leadership the fact that a more concentrated thought about keeping the national income spread widely, so that daily buying would have kept up, might well have saved us from much of the impact of the depression.

Everywhere the most conservative of leaders are seeing and saying that the "Multitude" must be thought more about in industrial, business, and financial councils. And the politicians are rushing in to capitalize this new insight of economic leadership.

There is definite danger that leadership will swing to an absurd deflection of the transient whims of the majority.

If the leadership of the next decade falls victim to what someone long ago called "the musty breath of the multitude" we may suffer as much as we have suffered from a leadership that thought too little of the multitude.

We do not want prisoners of the majority.

We want responsible leaders of the multitude.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI
VACATION LESSONS

"Willie is backward in history and grammar. His teacher thinks he ought to study during the vacation. He doesn't want to. What shall we do about it?"

That depends upon what Willie is doing this vacation. All education does not come out of books. A vast field lies beyond the school house door. I am not so sure that a cultivation of a part of this field might not bring results good enough to lay beside a passing mark in history or grammar.

Usually when we search for the reason of a child's failure we find a lack of interest in the subject. The child does not care about history or grammar and so he fails. Then we ask, WHY doesn't he like them? Maybe it is because he is not ready for those subjects yet. Children never make an even growth advancing all along the solid front of knowledge. Growth is ragged. One subject is high, another medium, another low, another gone for the term. Why? It would seem that history was as interesting as geography yet a child will do well in geography and fall in history. For some reason or other he is not ready to open his mind to history. How can we help him to open his mind? My sending him out to gather fresh experiences in the hope that they will open the way to new interests. You cannot be interested in things you know nothing about.

This boy, Willie, is backward in history. Instead of making him sit down, each day with the same old text book, and telling him to "study," we might get better results by taking him on a tour of the city, pointing out historical places, houses, tablets, and the like. Take him on a trip and trace the footsteps of a group of famous people, pilgrims, pioneers, explorers, warriors, who have left their marks on our history. Do the museums thoroughly. Say never a word about the history. Collect maps and picture cards and books. Find a simple easy book that will make some topic interesting. Tonty of the Iron Hand has interested many a boy in the early history of our country. Build up a background and stimulate interest. Then the child will take to his history with better grace. Grammar is a game, an intellectual pastime. Until the child has a good background of language experiences he will not get far with grammar. Enrich the background and the overflow can be used in learning the game of grammar.

Shall a backward child study in vacation time? It depends. If it means that he sit in the house for an hour holding his old texts and grumbling and mumbling over them. "NO." If it means that somebody is going to take the trouble to help the child gather experiences that will enrich his background and so stimulate his interest in the formal work for the next term in school, "YES."

All education is not closed with the covers of the books. A lot of it is on the street, in people's heads, in their actions, in work and in play. When a child has failed to get a passing mark in the classroom try another environment for a time and see what happens.

Time To Smile

UNUSUAL

They were discussing a mutual friend. "Yes," said Bacon, "I saw Fish the other day and he was treating his wife in a way that I wouldn't treat a dog."

"Good gracious!" said Hammond in shocked tones. "What was he doing?"

"He was kissing her."—Answers.

KILLING THE GOOSE

A man had been visiting a widow every evening.

"Why don't you marry her?" asked a friend.

The man looked a little worried.

"I've often thought about it," he said, "but where would I spend my evenings?"—Tit-Bits.

TAKEN UNAWARE

His uncle was giving him a lecture.

"You modern boys want too much," he said. "Do you know what I was getting when I married your aunt?"

"No," replied the nephew, "and I bet you didn't either."—Pele Mele, Paris.

MAYBE HE NEEDS IT

"Fact is," said the one man, "I married because I was lonely as much as for any other reason. To put it tersely, I married for sympathy."

"Well," said the other man, "you have mine."—Scarboro, England, Post.

ENLIGHTENING THEM

Wife: Why do you always stand at the front door whenever I sing? Don't you like to hear me?

Husband: It isn't that. I want the neighbors to see that I'm not beating my wife.—Answers.

NO REASON WHY NOT

Wife (pathetically): I wonder if you'll love me when my hair has turned to gray.

Husband: Why not? I've loved you the other times you changed its color.—Answers.

GOOD ADVICE

Lady (to gentleman filling up pipe): Pipe smoking always makes me sick.

Gentleman: Then I advise you to give up smoking.—Vart Hem, Stockholm.

VERY STRANGE

Doctor (after examining patient): When did he first seem strange? Landlady: Yesterday, when he wanted to pay his bill.—Tit-Bits.
